NEW INFORMATION CERTAIN TO RESULT IN DRASTIC ACTION

Deputies Delay Vote on Resolution for Rupture in Order to Hear Statement From Foreign Minister.

DECLARATION OF WAR LIKELY BY ARGENTINA

And Troops Will Probably Be Sent to Europe--Buenos Aires Hears That Kaiser Has Expressed Approval of "Loyalty" of Count von Luxburg.

Buenos Aires, September 21.—The chamber of deputies late today postponed discussion until today of the crisis with Germany caused by the unfriendly action of Count von Luxburg, the dismissed German minister. This postponement was taken after receipt of a statement from Foreign Minister Pueyrredon that the government has received new information which he will present to the congress tomorrow.

After a meeting of the ministry this afternoon it was announced that the government was prepared to take grave and rapid measures in view of certain new developments.

A high official declared that these measures probably would include an immediate declaration of war against Germany to be followed by the dispatch of troops to Europe.

News that Emperor William had expressed approval of the loyalty displayed by Count Luxburg was received here just before the opening of debate in the chamber of deputies today on the resolution declaring for a rupture of relations between Argentina and Germany. This was looked upon in some quarters as likely to hasten materially the decision in favor of a break.

Approval of the resolution was predicted in these quarters. Such action, it is considered, would virtually assure an actual rupture, as the senate has already passed the resolution favoring the break and President Irigoyen has announced he is willing to follow the dictates of the people.

COSTA RICA BREAKS WITH GERMANY.

San Jose, Costa Rica, September 21.—The Costa Rican government by an official act this afternoon severed diplomatic relations with Germany. Passports were handed to the diplomatic and consular representatives of Germany here and the Costa Rican legation and consuls in Germany were recalled. The people and the newspapers strongly approved of the government's action.

A dispatch from San Jose September 7 said that diplomatic relations between Costa Rica and Germany were considered severed because President Tinoco had discovered that German residents had joined with the followers of Former President Gonzalez in conspiring against the government. The advice added that all German residents in Costa Rican ports had been oredred interned and that the president had called congress in special session to consider the situation.

300,000 GREEK TROOPS SOON TO BE IN FIELD

70,000 Already in Fighting Line—Allies Are Furnishing Equipment.

Washington, September 21.——Dispatches from Athens received today at the Greek legation state that the work of mobilizing the Greek troops and of placing the army in the field is progressing smoothly and swiftly. Assistance has been rendered by France, England and America and with further aid the remainder of the army will soon be ready for active service.

There are now 70,000 Greeks in the fighting line and when the mobilization is complete 300,000 men will be under arms. The dispatches say the reason the whole army has not been mobilized is because of the lack of equipment, caused by waste during the long and useless mobilization under the former government of King Constantine.

The Greek people, according to the dispatches, are realizing the correctness of Venizelos' policy and he is growing more popular with all classes of people.

TEXAS FARMERS WANT 30 CENTS FOR COTTON

Dallas, Texas, September 21.—The Texas Farmers union, in session here, went on record today as favoring a minimum of 30 cents a pound for cotton during the war.

ATLANTA WILL BID "GOOD-BYE" TODAY TO 266 YOUNG MEN

Due to Orders Recently Received From War Department No Negroes Will Report at Camp Today.

BARBECUE TO BE GIVEN SOLDIERS THIS MORNING

Atlanta Will Not Have Enough White Men to Fill 40 Per Cent Quota Ordered to Report Today.

Atlanta's seven exemption boards will sent approximately 266 young white men to Camp Gordon today.

Due to failure to receive orders that all available white men were to be sent from each division, local boards Nos. 2 (second ward) and 3 (third ward) are sending only 40 per cent of their quota in today's increment—all of them being white men, but not including all the white men available in these two divisions.

This will make a shortage in the number to be sent by Atlanta today. Forty per cent of Atlanta's quota of 882 men is 352 men. Division No. 2 has 25 available white men and division No. 3 23 available white men who would have been sent if orders had been received by these two boards. No. 2 will send as many of the additional men as report at their offices this morning.

Report by 9 O'Clock.

Orders mailed several days ago to the selectmen who go out to Camp Gordon today stipulated that the men report at various hours this morning. Due to the decision to give the selectmen a big barbecue this morning, all boards want their men to report not later than 9 o'clock this morning, and they will be transferred by special street cars from the boards to the place for the barbecue, which takes place at 11 o'clock at the Hemphill avenue pumping station.

W. Zode Smith, superintendent of waterworks, and "chief chef" for the barbecue, was busy until late last night turning over the pigs and lambs and poking up the fires to barbecue the meats.

There's everything on the bill of fare from Brunswick stew to cued lamb, pig, beef plats and many other edibles. Atlanta's wholesale merchants and packers have responded most liberally to the call for food sent out at the last moment.

Mayor Candler, the members of general council and members of the various other exemption boards will attend the barbecue. There will be no speech-making.

The Southern railroad train will stop at Hemphill avenue about 12:50 o'clock to pick up the men and take them on out to Camp Gordon.

Representation by Boards.

The representation of the boards at Camp Gordon this morning is as follows:

| Division | Will Send | Go Out Short | Go Out Over |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1. | 30 | 32 | |
| 2. | 44 | | |
| 3. | 44 | | |
| 4. | 4 | 57 | |
| 5. | 46 | 8 | |
| 6. | 43 | | 8 |
| 7. | 55 | | 4 |

Division No. 4 has only 4 white men available to send in today's contingent. All the other available men in this division are negroes, and, according to orders issued from the adjutant general's office a few days ago only white men are to go in today's contingent. The excess of white men in the other divisions, with the exception of Divisions Nos. 1 and 5, was expected to make up the shortage in this division, the fourth ward. Since Divisions Nos. 2 and 3 have received no orders to send all available white men, Atlanta will go out short. Even when these men report, however, Atlanta will be short just 38 men.

The names of the men who will be sent from the various boards, as announced last night by the boards' chairmen, are as follows:

Division No. 1 (First and Fifth Wards)—Elmer B. Sanders, Everett W. Wilson, Hugh A. Johnson, Herman H. Creamer, Grady S. Kennington, George W. Finch, Ed Wilson Roberts, Millard Waters, Dr. John D. Louis, William S. Mullinax, J. B. Osborne, Henry Nelson Laws, William Wright Johnson, Ernest J. Bennett, Joe M. Mullinax, Alex Grossman, Jesse Lee Brooks, Harry Hill Higgins, Walter Grady Maroney, Ernest Edgar Elliott, Grover C. Acre, Thomas W. Pendley, Leon E. Organ, James R. Stokes, Lee Roy Bryant, James Robert Moore, Loys Stephens, William Van B. Hitchcock, Walter A. Taylor, George W. Puckett.

Division No. 2 (Second Ward)—L. T. Bradford, 552 Crew street; B. C. Hunter, 246 Cooper street; C. M. Mayfield, 298 Capitol avenue; P. N. Williams, 340 Whitehall street; A. K. Kitchens, 85 Washington street; F. H. Howell, 281 Glenn street; G. H. Smith, 659 South Pryor street; B. C. Trotter, 124 Formwalt street; W. G. Gantt, 36 Whitehall terrace; J. A. Garrard, 166 Formwalt street; Elias Clein, 167 Capitol avenue; O. C. Robbins, 314 Central avenue.

FLA. WOMAN MAYOR BECOMES THE BRIDE OF HER SECRETARY

Tampa, Fla., September 21.—Mrs. George Quintard Horwitz, prominent in Philadelphia society circles and mayor of Moorehaven, Fla., and a wealthy woman, and John J. O'Brien, her private secretary, a former Philadelphia newspaper man, were married here this morning by Father S. J. McNally, of the Sacred Heart Catholic church.

They left immediately after the ceremony without divulging their destination. Mrs. O'Brien is engaged in development of a big ranch property at Moorehaven on the edge of the Everglades country and has made a remarkable success there. Her election as mayor of Moorehaven came unsought and was unanimous. She is the first woman mayor in the south.

MANY DRAFTED MEN REPORTED MISSING

Difficulties in Mobilization in Number of States of the Central West—Situation "Creating Anxiety" at Some Points.

Chicago, September 21.—Difficulties in the mobilization of the 40 per cent of the national army recently called to the colors, were reported tonight from a number of states in the central west.

Representations of several counties in Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, and Colorado were less than the required number on arriving at Camp Funston, Kan. Nineteen men disappeared from the St. Louis contingent while in Kansas City, but camp officers hope the men have only missed their train. Another county supposed to send fifteen men sent only one.

In Butte, Mont., of 460 men summoned to appear today preparatory to leaving for Camp Lewis, Wash., 225 failed to answer to roll call. Seventeen failed to report in Duluth, Minn., and their names were forwarded to the adjutant general of the state. Exemption board officials in El Paso, Texas, reported that many men of Mexican descent have crossed the border to evade service, but one-fourth of the 307 men sent from there today were of Mexican blood.

The draft situation was reported "creating anxiety" in Ironwood, Mich., because only 112 men out of 200 ordered to report, appeared for roll call. The exemption board called on Lieutenant Vandervort, of the Michigan Mounted constabulary, for aid in rounding up the missing.

Reports from all cantonments, however, emphasized the enthusiastic and patriotic attitude of the men already in camp. One Nebraska county sent to Camp Funston 75 men instead of its quota of 36.

"All the boys wanted to come, so the board told us to come along and General Wood could use us in some place," explained the leader of the delegation.

THREAT OF ARREST FOR LA FOLLETTE

Minnesota Governor May Move Against Senator for Anti-War Speech Before th Non-Partisan League.

St. Paul, Minn., September 21.—Governor Burnquist announced tonight that if an official investigation of the alleged disloyal statements made by Senator La Follette at the closing session of the non-partisan league high cost of living conference here last night reveals that his remarks were seditious, the Minnesota public safety commission, of which the governor is chairman, will ask for the senator's arrest.

The senator in his address told a large audience that he was opposed to war, that he thought Germany had been rather rough with the "technical" rights of American citizens, but that he did not think the exercise of these technical rights in traveling on belligerent merchantmen laden with munitions was worth going to war about.

The delegates to the conference, mainly farmers, frequently interrupted his speech with applause. There were a few in the gathering, however, who did not approve all the sentiments expressed by the speaker. When the senator in making his declaration that the United States should never have entered the war, sought to defend the sinking of the Lusitania, there came cries of "You're yellow." Instantly there was confusion, but above the uproar the senator shouted:

"Any man who says that in an audience like this is yellow himself. I'll take care of any man who interrupts me if you will give me a chance."

"What about the Lusitania?" somebody shouted, and Governor Frazier, of North Dakota, the chairman, had much difficulty in quelling the disorder that ensued.

"A passenger on a foreign ship carrying munitions is technically in foreign territory," said Senator La Follette when he could make himself heard. "The citizen who enters such a ship takes his life in his own hands. I believe that the American munition makers encouraged Americans to ride on such ships to give them semblance of protection. I was not in favor of beginning this war. We had no grievance. The German government had interfered with our rights to travel on the high seas—as passengers on munition ships—of Great Britain. On these grievances, which were insignificant, considering the rights and consequences involved, we went to war.

"We are now in the war and we have got to finance it."

The senator criticised the tax bill recently passed by congress.

GERMAN INTRIGUE TO INVOLVE JAPAN AND UNITED STATES

Viscount Ishii Says Intriguers Work in Both Countries and Have Prevented Full Understanding

FRAUD AND DECEPTION WEAR CLEVER DISGUISES

Zimmermann Note to Mexico Gave Clew to Secret Agencies at Work to Drive the United States and Japan Apart.

Washington, September 21.—German intrigue and propaganda, cleverly applied in both countries, have prevented a full understanding between America and Japan, Viscount Ishii, head of the Japanese mission to the United States, declared in an address here tonight at the National Press club. The Zimmermann note to Mexico involving Japan gave a clue to the secret agencies at work to part the east and the west, the viscount said, but even the noise of this diplomatic "blunder" by Berlin gave a check only for a time.

"Since then the agents have been hard at work," the viscount continued. "They were at work yesterday and they are at work today. Every prejudice, every sympathy, every available argument has been appealed to and used to show to your people and to ours what a low, cunning enemy we have each in the other and how much dependent we are upon the future friendship, support and good will of Germany."

Viscount Ishii said that in all countries today fraud, deception, treachery and all forces of evil are wearing disguises most difficult to penetrate and that he regretted deeply to say that owing to this difficulty the newspapers in both America and Japan, inadvertently, he believed, had delayed the "inevitable full understanding" between the two nations.

Japan and United States.

"To the Japanese government and nation anything like armed conflict with America is simply unthinkable," Viscount Ishii said, and proof of this, "if indeed any proof is needed," he asserted, is that it was Japan which suggested that her treaty with Great Britain be changed so as to exclude the United States from its operations. If Japan had the remotest intention of appealing to arms against America," he added, "how could she thus voluntarily have renounced the all important co-operation of Great Britain?

"I am quite confident that some day," he went on, "and I sincerely trust the day is not far distant, the eyes of all men who honestly endeavor to present the truth will be opened and that the truth about Japan and about America will be revealed to all the

SEEKING TO INFLUENCE AMERICAN CONGRESS, GERMANY USED CASH

State Department Reveals How Von Bernstorff Paid Organizations to Exert Pro-German Pressure at Washington.

MEMBERS OF CONGRESS ARE HIGHLY INDIGNANT

Heflin Says He Can Mention 13 or 14 Congressmen Who "Acted Suspiciously"—Not Generally Believed, However, That German Money Was Intended for Congressmen.

Washington, September 21.—The American government's publicity spotlight revealing German intrigue in neutral lands turned today upon the expenditure of money by the Berlin foreign office in an effort to influence congress on the eve of the ruthless submarine campaign which drove the United States to war.

Secretary Lansing made public without comment the text of a message sent by Count von Bernstorff to Berlin last January asking authority to use $50,000 to influence congress through an organization which the foreign office was reminded had performed similar service before. To supplement this move, Von Bernstorff suggested an official declaration in favor of Ireland for its effect here.

The organization to be employed was not named in the message, and Mr. Lansing did not disclose its identity. It was freely suggested among other officials, however, that it was one of the various societies which flooded members of the house and senate with peace messages when President Wilson was asking that a state of war be recognized.

Another Chapter to Amazing Story.

This disclosure adds another chapter to the amazing story begun with publication of the famous Zimmermann note in which Germany proposed an alliance with Mexico and Japan against the United States, and which included the German-Swedish breaches of neutrality in Argentina and Mexico. It connects the German government and Count von Bernstorff directly and conclusively with machinations which the American public had assumed was a part of the world-wide Teutonic intrigue, but which many people firmly believed were carried on or financed in this country by German-Americans without actual authority from Berlin.

Little surprise was occasioned either in official circles or at the capitol, although members of congress were highly indignant. There was some talk at the capitol of demanding an investigation, and Senator Overman, chairman of the senate lobby committee, and Representative Flood, chairman of the house foreign affairs committee, arranged to go to the state department tomorrow and ask for more information.

On the floor or the house, Representative Heflin, of Alabama, asserted that he could name thirteen or fourteen members of the two branches of congress who had acted suspiciously, and expressed the opinion that they should be investigated. Generally, however, the disposition was to regard as absurd any suggestion that any part of the $50,000 sought by Von Bernstorff was intended for members of congress.

Text of Bernstorff Message.

The Von Bernstorff message, dated January 22, follows:

"I request authority to pay out up to $50,000 (fifty thousand dollars) in order as on former occasions to influence congress through the organization you know of, which can perhaps prevent war.

"I am beginning in the meantime to act accordingly.

"In the above circumstances a public German declaration in favor of Ireland is highly desirable, in order to gain the support of Irish influence here."

This message was sent nine days before the German government proclaimed its unrestricted submarine warfare. When he wrote it Count von Bernstorff was assuring the American government and press that under no circumstances would Germany violate her pledges of the Sussex case or do anything that might draw the United States into the list of her enemies. With the Lusitania and other cases in abeyance, the American government had made no move since the Sussex pledge and there was nothing on the surface to foreshadow impending trouble.

Two weeks later, when Von Bernstorff was handed his passports, he professed ignorance of prior knowledge of his government's intentions to throw its promises to the winds.

Evidence has been accumulating to prove that the ambassador not only was cognisant of but actually directed the activities of Boy-Ed and Von Papen, the military and naval attaches,

DR. HENRY WILSON DIED FRIDAY NIGHT

Prominent Physician Was One of Atlanta's Pioneers and Played Big Part in Her Development.

Dr. Henry L. Wilson, of 46 Peachtree place, confederate veteran and one of the oldest citizen of Atlanta, died Friday night at 8 o'clock at St. Joseph's infirmary, where he had been ill for several months.

Dr. Wilson was born in Danville, Va., July 2, 1839, moving from there to Atlanta with his father, Colonel W. M. Wilson, in 1853. Since that time he has been intimately associated with the city's growth and has contributed much toward its civic enterprises and development. His father was postmaster at Atlanta when war broke out between the states.

At the outbreak of hostilities his father enlisted in the confederate army. He fought in the first battle of Manassas and in the second battle was killed while fighting several yards in advance of his regiment.

After Dr. Wilson came to Georgia he received his early educational training in LaGrange and then went to Emory college at Oxford, where he graduated, receiving his diploma in 1858. The following year he received a diploma from the Atlanta Medical college and was later appointed city physician, being the first city physician of Atlanta.

After the first battle of Manassas Dr. Wilson went to Richmond, Va., where he was made surgeon of the Seventh Georgia regiment. During the last two years of the war he was chief surgeon of the conscript department of the state of Georgia.

In 1872 Dr. Wilson was elected to the city council and during his term of office was chairman of the street committee and other important committees. In 1888 he was elected a member of the board of county commissioners.

For several years he was connected with Frank P. Rice, constituting the firm of Rice & Wilson, real estate dealers in Atlanta. This firm played a great part in the development of the city.

Dr. Wilson was a steward in the First Methodist church and also a prominent Mason. He is survived by two sons, Nat H. Wilson, of Atlanta; Dr. W. T. Wilson, of Providence, R. I., and Mrs. Frederick Lyten, of New York.

The body was removed to the chapel of H. M. Patterson & Son. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Leaders of National Army Will Cooperate in Plans To Encourage Men to Sing

Big Open-Air Stage Will Be Constructed in Center of Great Natural Amphitheater of Hills Where Thousands of Men Can Gather for Singing.

Warren Kimsey, singing instructor from the war department commission on training camp activities, conferred with Major General Eben Swift Friday morning and perfected details for training the 40,000 national army men of the 82d division in chorus singing.

A program of conferences with the officers of the various units of the cantonment, for the working out of definite plans through which the men of their commands will be trained in singing, was arranged, and in the afternoon Mr. Kimsey and Colonel Preston Brown, chief-of-staff, inspected several sites at the cantonment for the construction of a big open-air stage. A site was selected in the center of a great natural amphitheater of hills, where the men can gather by the thousands for singing.

Mr. Kimsey will go about teaching singing to the 82d division with the same thoroughness of military train-

AS SUITABLE BASIS FOR NEGOTIATIONS TO END WORLD WAR

Emperor Charles of Austria-Hungary Expresses Hope That Nations Opposing His Own May Accept Vatican Proposals.

FREEDOM OF THE SEAS ONE OF AUSTRIA'S HOPES

Emperor Charles Admits Armed Force Must Be Eliminated and Rule of Justice and Legality Substituted—Kaiser "Cherishes Lively Desire" That Pope's Plea May Meet With Success.

New York, September 21.—(By Associated Press. From European Cables of the Day.)—In reply to the peace proposals of Pope Benedict, the German and Austro-Hungarian governments express the hope that the pontiff's efforts may bring about a cessation of hostilities. Emperor William "cherishes a lively desire" that the vatican appeal may meet with success.

Germany's reply is written by a member of the emperor's entourage, while that of Austro-Hungary is a personal missive from Emperor Charles. Both notes to the pope were made public almost simultaneously and apparently both follow the same general trend.

Emperor Charles declares the "proposals will lead to peace if the belligerent nations would enter into negotiations in the sense of the pontiff's suggestions in which he sees a suitable basis for initiating exchanges toward a just and lasting peace. He expresses the hope that the opposing belligerents may be animated by the same idea.

The future arrangement of the world, the emperor says, must be based on the elimination of armed force, the freedom of the seas and on the rule of international justice and legality.

Emperor William has been following the efforts of Pope Benedict toward peace with "high respect and sincere" gratitude. The German reply designates the pope's note as an "emphatic peace appeal."

AUSTRIAN RULER PRAYS FOR SUCCESS OF VATICAN PLAN

Amsterdam, September 21.—Peace would come from the recent proposals of Pope Benedict if the belligerent nations would enter into negotiations in the sense of the pontiff's suggestion, Emperor Charles of Austria-Hungary says in his reply to the vatican note. The emperor sees in the pope's peace plan a suitable basis for starting negotiations toward a just and lasting peace and expresses the hope that the nations opposing his own may be animated by the same idea.

With Thankful Heart.

Austria-Hungary's ruler received the pontiff's note with a thankful heart and with an expression of hope that the pontiff's efforts may lead to the realization of the emperor's desire for a lasting and honorable peace for all parties.

SEEKING TO INFLUENCE AMERICAN CONGRESS

who were sent home long before the United States broke relations with Germany because of their connection with bomb plots, passport frauds, spying and other phases of the almost unlimited operations in this country of the German secret system.

Government Has More Evidence.

How complete is the evidence of German diplomatic duplicity in possession of the United States government is only conjectural, but that it is far more than has been generally supposed now is certain. It was intimated by government officials today that the series of revelations is not nearly complete. From outside there are reaching the state department echoes of the apprehension sounded by friends of men towards whom suspicion has long pointed.

Official repudiation was given a suggestion that a diplomat now in Washington is about to be placed under the spotlight. The co-ordinated intelligence forces of the government are known to be continuing their investigations, however, and it is pointed out that the government has not lost sight of the necessity of watching for German intrigue and espionage.

It was suggested at the state department that the odd mixing of Count von Bernstorff's talk about peace and his secret activities while in Washington appeared significant in view of the peace propaganda recently emanating from Germany.

There may be some discussion of the incident in the senate tomorrow when it reconvenes, after a week virtually spent in recess. New provisions proposed by conferees on the trading with the enemy bill, authorizing the president to establish censorship over foreign cable, radio, mail and all other communication and for licensing of foreign-language newspapers are subjects on which the discussion might hinge.

Applause from the floor and the galleries greeted Representative Heflin's demand in the house today for a congressional investigation of the Von Bernstorff message to determine if any members of either house had received German money.

Heflin Has Suspicions.

"I do not know to whom the count refers," he said, "but I do know that the contents of his message constitute a serious reflection upon congress and should be investigated. If permitted, I could name thirteen or fourteen men in the two bodies who have acted suspiciously. If a member has acted suspiciously in or out of congress he ought to be investigated and expelled if the facts warrant it. If any member is not giving his hearty support to the commander-in-chief in this time of war he should be put out of the capitol."

Mr. Heflin concluded by saying that speaking for the house as a body he repudiated the intimation conveyed by the message that congress was susceptible to corruption.

"In view of the fact that charges of large expenditures of money in German propaganda have not been denied," said Senator Reed, of Missouri, "this new evidence is cumulative. The money evidently was spent in propaganda. It is possible that there are men in this country big enough scoundrels to take money for that purpose. I would be deeply interested if there is any charge that any member of congress knew that organizations seeking to influence him were financed by Germany."

Accounts for Many Messages.

Senator Wadsworth, of New York, said the statement accounts for many messages congressmen received about that time.

"When you receive four hundred telegrams in one day, all in the same language and nearly all signed with some German name, it is evident that somebody is putting up some money," said the New York senator. "We received thousands of telegrams—every member of the senate, I am sure, seeking to influence us against war."

COLONEL ROOSEVELT NOT SURPRISED.

Chicago, September 21.—Colonel Roosevelt here tonight said the Washington revelations of a German purpose to influence congress, were no surprises to him. "After Dumba, Boy-Ed and Von Papen were expelled from this country, everybody in the government service from the lowest to the highest knew exactly what the German government had been doing—trying to influence our people through so-called peace organizations," he said. Colonel Roosevelt spent two hours here this afternoon on his way from the east to Kansas City.

PATHFINDING TOUR OVER BANKHEAD ROAD

Congressmen Invited to Make Trip From Washington to Atlanta.

Washington, September 21.—Plans for the pathfinding tour over the Bankhead highway between Washington and Atlanta about November 1 were announced here tonight by J. A. Rountree, of Birmingham, secretary of the Bankhead National Highway association. The start will be made from the capitol steps and a number of congressmen have been invited to make the trip, the exact date of which will be announced later.

The route will be through Fredericksburg, Richmond, Petersburg and Clarksville, Va.; Henderson, Raleigh, Durham, Burlington, Greensboro and Charlotte, N. C.; Spartanburg, Greenville and Anderson, S. C., and Hartwell and Winder, Ga., and into Atlanta. The tourists then will return by this route as far as Greensboro and from there traverse the Shenandoah valley route through Lynchburg and Danville and up through the valley of Virginia.

The highway running from Washington to Los Angeles already has been gone over between Atlanta and Memphis, and the coming trip will be for the purpose of determining the exact route between here and Atlanta.

Senators Bankhead, Alabama; Martin, Virginia; Overman, North Carolina; Smith, South Carolina, and Smith, Georgia, are among congressmen invited to accompany the pathfinders.

"AUTOMOBILE THEFT SYNDICATE" LEADER GETS LONG SENTENCE

B. H. McWhorter, convicted of burglary in connection with an alleged "automobile theft syndicate," which he is charged with engineering, was sentenced Friday by Judge Ben H. Hill to serve thirteen years in the penitentiary.

The plot disclosed by the evidence in the McWhorter case is said by court officials to be the most elaborate ever unearthed in this district, the testimony showing that McWhorter had hired several negroes at $12 per week to purloin thousands of dollars worth of tires and accessories, in addition to numerous automobiles, all of which were marketed not only in Georgia, but in neighboring states.

Judge Richard B. Russell, representing McWhorter, made an eloquent appeal for mercy before Judge Hill Friday morning, basing his plea upon the good character of the defendant and his old mother, whom he stated was dependent upon McWhorter.

'As a man, I feel sympathy for this young man," said Judge Hill, "but as a judge, my feelings must be different—I must look beyond mere sympathy."

CIRCUS MAN DOING "BIT."

Represents the Government in Exemption Appeals.

F. H. Gentry, part owner of the Sells-Floto circus, which opens for a two-day stand here Monday, is doing his "bit" for Uncle Sam.

Mr. Gentry has many friends in Atlanta, and is a great friend of Walter C. Taylor, city clerk. He has spent much of his time for the past few days in Mr. Taylor's offices at city hall, making many new friends.

At his home in Vincennes, Ind., he is in charge of the work of appealing all exemptions granted to the district appeal boards. He has worked for six months on this "job," and will leave his circus in a few days to return to this work.

COUNTER ATTACKS MADE BY GERMANS BLOODILY CHECKED

British Have Made Complete Latest Success and Are Holding All Positions Gained in Flanders.

New York, September 21.—(By Associated Press. From European Cables of the Day.)—Field Marshal Haig has made complete his latest success and his men are holding tight to the new positions taken from the Germans on Thursday. Crown Prince Rupprecht hurled counter attacks against the new British lines, but the Britishers held on firmly to their gains. Berlin officially admits that the British effort was successful and that the Germans were forced to evacuate some of their defences in the vital Ypres salient, but it attempts to minimiz the importance of the advance. The British losses in the assault are reported to have been light.

On the southern end of the western front the German crown prince has suffered severe losses in an unsuccessful attack on Mont Haut, in Champagne. Other attacks by the Germans on the Aisne front and near Verdun were repelled by the French.

There has been no marked fighting activity on the eastern front. General Alexieff, chief of staff to Premier Kerensky, commander-in-chief of the Russian armies, has resigned. Differences between the two men over matters appertaining to the Korniloff revolt are given as the reason.

The Austrians and Italians apparently are resting on the Carso front. In the Trentino, however, the two armies have been more active. In an attack at Cima Sief, in the Dolomite Alps, the Italians gained the enemy defenses. The impossibility of securing shelter, however, forced the Italians to retire.

London, September 21.—The number of German prisoners taken by the British in yesterday's fighting on the Belgian front now exceeds three thousand, according to the British war office statement tonight. The British yesterday repulsed several strong counter attacks, inflicting exceptionally heavy losses.

TEUTONS ACCEPT POPE'S PEACE PLAN

peace hopes of Emperor Charles in order that heavy material burdens may be taken from the nations of the earth and new sources of prosperity opened to them.

The Austrian emperor admits that the future arrangement of the world must be based on the elimination of armed force and on the rule of international justice and legality.

Austria is prepared, the reply states, to enter into negotiations for the submission of international disputes to compulsory arbitration.

The pope's idea of negotiations between the belligerents for an understanding for simultaneous and reciprocal reduction of armaments on land and sea and in the air, by which the high seas, which rightfully belong to all nations, will be opened equally to the use of all is supported by Emperor Charles.

The reply, received here in a dispatch from Vienna, was handed to Monsignor T. Valfre di Bonzo, the papal nuncio at Vienna, on Thursday.

Text of Austrian Reply.

The text of the reply follows:

"Holy Father: With due veneration and deep emotion we take cognizance of the new representations your holiness, in fulfillment of the holy office entrusted to you by God, make to us and the heads of the other belligerent states with the noble intention of leading the heavily tried nations to a unity that will restore peace to them.

"With a thankful heart we received this fresh gift of fatherly care which you, holy father, always bestow on all peoples without distinction, and from the depth of our heart we greet the moving exhortation which your holiness has addressed to the governments of the belligerent people. During this cruel war we have always looked up to your holiness as to the highest personage, who, in virtue of His mission which reaches beyond earthly things and thanks to the high conception of His duties laid upon Him, stands high above the belligerent peoples, and who is inaccessible to all influence, was able to find a way which may lead to the realization of our own desire for peace, lasting and honorable for all parties.

"Since ascending the throne of our ancestors and fully conscious of the responsibility which we bear before God and men for the fate of the Austro-Hungarian monarchy, we have never lost sight of the high aim of restoring to our peoples as speedily as possible the blessings of peace. Soon after our accession to the throne it was vouchsafed to us in common with our allies to undertake a step which had been considered and prepared by our exalted predecessor, Francis Joseph, to pave the way for a lasting and honorable peace.

Peace for Generations to Come.

"We gave expression to this desire in a speech from the throne delivered at the opening of the Austrian reichsrath, thereby showing that we are striving after a peace that shall free the future life of the nation from rancor and a thirst for revenge and that shall secure them for generations to come from the employment of armed forces. Our joint government has in the meantime not failed in repeated and emphatic declarations, which could be heard by all the world, to give expression to our own will and to that of the Austro-Hungarian peoples to prepare an end to bloodshed by a peace such as your holiness has in mind.

"Happy in the thought that our desires from the first were directed toward the same object which your holiness today characterizes as one we should strive for, we have taken into close consideration the concrete and practical suggestions of your holiness and have come to the following conclusions:

"With deep-rooted conviction we agree to the leading idea of your holiness that the future arrangement of the world must be based on the elimination of armed forces and on the moral force of right and on the rule of international justice and legality.

"We, too, are imbued with the hope that a strengthening of the sense of right would morally regenerate humanity. We support, therefore, your holiness' view that the negotiations between the belligerents should and could lead to an understanding by which, with the creation of appropriate guarantees, armaments on land and sea and in the air might be reduced simultaneously, reciprocally and gradually to a fixed limit, and whereby the high seas, which rightly belong to all the nations of the earth, may be freed from domination or paramountcy and be opened equally for the use of all.

"Fully conscious of the importance of the promotion of peace on the method proposed by your holiness, namely, to submit international disputes to compulsory arbitration, we are also prepared to enter into negotiations regarding this proposal.

Security for Dual Monarchy.

"If, as we most heartily desire, agreements should be arrived at between the belligerents which would realize this sublime idea and thereby give security to the Austro-Hungarian monarchy for its unhampered future development, it can then not be difficult to find a satisfactory solution of the other questions which still remain to be settled between the belligerents in a spirit of justice and of a reasonable consideration of the conditions for existence of both parties.

"If the nations of the earth were to enter, with a desire for peace, into negotiations with one another in the sense of your holiness' proposals, then peace could blossom forth from them. The nations could attain complete freedom of movement on the high seas, heavy material burdens could be taken from them and new sources of prosperity opened to them.

"Guided by a spirit of moderation and conciliation, we see in the proposals of your holiness a suitable basis for initiating negotiations, with a view to preparing a peace, just to all and lasting, and we earnestly hope our present enemies may be animated by the same ideas. In this spirit we beg that the Almighty may bless the work of peace begun by your holiness."

TEXT OF NOTE FROM GERMANY.

Amsterdam, September 21.—The German government in its reply to the peace note of Pope Benedict, a copy of which has been received here, "cherishes a lively desire" that the appeal may meet with success.

Emperor William, the German note says, has been following the efforts of the pope toward peace for a considerable time with high respect.

The text of the reply reads:

"Herr Cardinal: Your eminence has been good enough, together with your letter of August 2, to transmit to the kaiser and king, my gracious master, the note of his holiness, the pope, in which his holiness, filled with grief at the devastations of the world war, makes an emphatic peace appeal to the heads of the belligerent peoples. The kaiser-king has deigned to acquaint me with your eminence's letter and to entrust the reply to me.

"His majesty has been following for a considerable time with high respect and sincere gratitude his holiness' efforts in a spirit of true impartiality to alleviate as far as possible the sufferings of the war and to hasten the end of hostilities. The kaiser sees in the latest step of his holiness fresh proof of his noble and human feelings, and cherishes a lively desire that for the benefit of the entire world the papal appeal may meet with success.

FAVORABLE REPLIES WERE EXPECTED.

Washington, September 21.—Favorable replies from both Berlin and Vienna to Pope Benedict's peace proposals were not unexpected in the United States and the allied countries.

Whether or not the action of the pope was influenced by Austria, as has been frequently suggested, the acceptance of his peace plans by the central powers falls in line with the policies of those governments in making their people feel that they are waging a purely defensive war against a group of nations bent upon their destruction.

News of the delivering of the replies of the German and Austrian emperors to Pope Benedict reached Washington tonight too late for any official comment.

London, September 21.—The statement that Great Britain had asked for further information from the vatican, with a view to replying to Pope Benedict's peace note, is authoritatively denied.

GERMAN INTRIGUE TO INVOLVE JAPAN AND U. S.

world. When that day comes you and all men will know how cleverly the work of deception has been carried on and how long we have listened to lies about the ambitions and the ideals of the East and West.

"For more than ten years a propaganda has been carried on in this country, in Japan and in fact throughout the world for the one and sole purpose of keeping nations of Far East and Far West as far apart as possible; to create distrust, suspicion and unkindly feeling all in order that Germany might secure advantage in the confusion.

"The world was flooded with tales of Japan's military aspirations and Japan's duplicity. Have these been borne out by history? Even now the German publicity agent whispers first in your ear and then in mine. To the accompaniment of appeals to the human heart he tells to me stories of your duplicity and to you of mine.

German Blunder Gave Clue.

"These agents have been supplied with unlimited resources. No wonder we have been deceived. A short time ago a bad blunder gave us a clue. The Zimmermann note to Mexico involving Japan was a blunder. It made such a noise that we were disturbed in our slumbers and so were you. This gave a check for a time, but since then the agents have been hard at work; they were at work yesterday and they are at work today. Every prejudice, every sympathy, every available argument has been appealed to and used to show to your people and to ours what a low, cunning enemy we have each in the other and how much dependent we are upon the future friendship, support and good will of Germany.

"Now, gentlemen, you might expect me to say something about the object of my mission in reply to suggestions made continually in the newspapers who get the truth from the 'high authorities on the Far East' or 'close friends of the administration' one might inquire from what fountain head these intimate informations come. I have not told anyone what I have said in the pleasant conversations I have had with the officials in Washington, and I do not believe for a moment that the high officials have told anyone either. Yet these informants have the whole story and tell you just what we are after. We are told that we have come to Washington when the whole world is at war; when all the world is in need of disinterested friendships; when all civilization is menaced; at such a time you are told that we come here to trade; that we come as mercenaries, to ask a price for our assistance in this war.

Piece of Secret History.

"Gentlemen, is this a charge you want me to answer? Answer it yourselves, out of your own honest men's hearts.

"Let me tell you a piece of secret history. When it became known to us that the American and British governments were alike desirous of entering into a general treaty of arbitration, but that they found the making of such a treaty was precluded by the terms of the British alliance with Japan, as they then stood, it was not with the consent of Japan, but it was because Japan's spantoneous offer that the stipulations of the alliance were revised so that no obstacle might be put in the way of the proposed treaty. As you know, article 4 of the new Anglo-Japanese treaty now in effect, excludes the United States from its operation. This is a true account of ths genesis of that clause. It was Japan's own idea—her own contribution to the cause of universal peace.

"Now, if Japan had the remotest intention of appealing to arms against America, how could she thus voluntarily have renounced the all important co-operation of Great Britain? It would have been wildly quixotic.

"There is, one may surely be safe in saying, only one way to interpret this attitude of Japan. It is a most signal proof—if indeed any proof is needed—that to the Japanese government and nation anything like armed conflict with America is simply unthinkable."

MOTOR TRUCK MEASURE FAVORED BY BURLESON

Postmaster General Thinks Moon Bill Would Benefit Every Part of Country.

By P. H. McGowan.

Washington, September 21.—(Special.)—Postmaster General Burleson today issued a statement giving it as his opinion that every part of the United States would profit by the passage of the Moon motor truck bill, now pending in congress, and that it would be beneficial to both city and country alike.

In the view of the postoffice department the operation of these motor truck routes as contemplated by the Moon bill would add 100 per cent to the value of the parcel post service in the vicinity of the cities where established.

The purpose of the bill is to have tried out a plan by which the benefits of the millions of dollars expended in making good roads and in the great development of motor vehicles may be co-ordinated with the parcel post system, so as to open up great stretches of country within easy motor distance from large cities and to facilitate the delivery of food products.

About many of the large cities, within a radius of 50 miles or more, there are productive districts occupied by farms and villages which are without direct postal facilities. These would be reached by the contemplated motor truck routes, to the convenience and advantage of both the isolated communities and of the consumers in the cities.

By the use of motor truck routes in the parcel post service in these sections, it is believed, a very large amount of food products which otherwise would be wasted or delivered only at very high cost, would reach the large cities at a reasonable cost to the consumers. It is estimated that such service would be self-supporting and, perhaps, profitable to the government.

SHORTER BEGINS TERM WITH FINE PROSPECTS

Rome, Ga., September 21.—(Special.) With every prospect of a most successful year, Shorter college opened its fortieth year yesterday with a brief program of exercises, in the presence of a large audience. A prayer by Rev. W. L. Walker and a welcome in behalf of the Rome churches by Rev. H. E. Joyner preceded an adress by Dr. Alford Porter, of Atlanta. Under the title of the "Sanctification of the Sword," Dr. Porter made a magnificent appeal to the patriotism of his hearers, reviewing the causes of the great war now waging and the principles of justice, truth, mercy and love which are at stake. Dr. Porter denied that ours is a materialistic nation, as charged by Germany. He said that material gain has come to us while we were pursuing ideals. We are not fighting people we hate, he said, but we are fighting for principles we love.

GRIFFIN SOON TO VOTE ON COMMISSION FORM

Griffin, Ga., September 21.—(Special.)—Griffin will decide next month whether or not it will have commission government. At the recent session of the legislature a bill was passed abolishing the offices of mayor, aldermen and light and water commissioners and providing for commission form. An election has been called for October 17, submitting the charter amendment to the voters for their approval or rejection. The measures provide for three commissioners and a city manager. The present officials of the city are to hold their offices until the board of commissioners is elected on the first Wednesday in December, 1918, and qualify for their positions.

ASK GERMAN LABOR ON GREAT HIGHWAY

Prominent Citizens of Ducktown, Tenn., Plan Circuit Road Through North Georgia, Tennessee and North Carolina.

To put interned German prisoners in this country at work building a circuit road running from Atlanta through north Georgia to Mineral Bluff and through North Carolina to Newport, Tenn., extending from Newport to Ducktown, Tenn., and Copper Hill, Tenn., and connecting in a big loop at Blue Ridge, is the proposal made by a committee of five prominent citizens of Ducktown, Tenn., who are now in Atlanta in the interest of the construction of the proposed highway.

The committee is composed of S. M. Reese, R. L. Kirkpatrick, W. E. Robinson, Dr. L. E. Kimsey and F. H. Lumus. These men have already completed an observation tour over that section of the proposed highway, which will lie in Tennessee and North Carolina, and they are now completing their trip over the proposed tract by visiting a number of Georgia towns and cities, which will be located on the highway.

Their proposition is to construct the highway with the labor of interned Germans, together with probable financial aid from the government. In return the highway will open up a way through the Appalachian forest reserve in north Georgia and southern Tennessee and North Carolina. The entire highway will consist of some 1,000 miles, practically all of which will be macadamized, and approximately 75 miles of which will extend through the forest reserve and the copper district of Tennessee.

The effect will be to open up a road from Atlanta through the northern part of the state to both Tennessee and North Carolina via Rome, Cartersville, Jasper, Ellijay, Mineral Bluff and other Georgia cities.

The committee left Ducktown on September 11 and arrived in Atlanta Friday, after making a thorough tour of the loop of the highway. The members will leave Atlanta Saturday to return to Ducktown and immediately lay their proposition before the government.

Today all close relatives who had not already come to Washington, got here and are at Mrs. Smith's bedside hoping for the best. Dr. Sterling Ruffin is in constant attendance, as is Senator Smith and other members of the family. ## Chastain Will Make Two Addresses Today To Georgia Farmers

County Demonstration Agent T. G. Chastain will address a meeting of farmers at Acworth, Ga., Saturday afternoon. The meeting has been called by Dr. C. W. Burtz for a discussion of cattle raising and will be widely attended by the farmers in that district.

Mr. Chastain will also address another meeting of farmers at Benson school house, Saturday morning. The Benson school meeting is being held under the auspices of the Farmers' union and was called by W. T. Chastain. An address will also be made on this occasion by J. J. Brown.

Mr. Chastain stated Friday that gatherings of farmers for discussion of their common problems were becoming more and more frequent and that they are rapidly becoming more awake to the value of co-operation.

It's the Sort of Shop a Mother Can Count On

The Junior Department (Third Floor)

That's the idea—the sort of shop a mother can count on when she comes to get the clothes that the children must have.

If it is a question of style she finds that the Junior Department has made a thorough study of it and has searched out those little exclusive fashions that really mean distinction in dress.

If it is a question of economy she finds that the Junior Department has succeeded in getting the serviceable, good-looking, wearable clothes that are genuinely full money's worth.

It's a shop that a mother can count on—and it shows right now, as never before, in the displays of junior and flapper suits, in dresses of silk, of serge, of ginghams; in coats, in hats, in sweaters, in infants' wear.

GERMAN CASH GIVEN TO ANTI-DRAFT MEN

Witnesses Swear Oklahoma Organization Was Supplied With Money Procured From the Kaiser's Agents Through I. W. W.

Enid, Okla., September 21.—Money procured from agents of the German government and disbursed through headquarters of the Industrial Workers of the World at Chicago was used to purchase arms, ammunition and supplies for the Working Class union, "Jones Family" and kindred organizations, said to number forty or more, with a membership of approximately two million, according to testimony in federal court here today in the trial of eleven alleged draft resisters from Pottawatomie and Cleveland counties.

Money for Draft Resisters.

J. C. Holmes, who said he was a government agent, testified that he had joined the Work Class union in Pottawatomie county last May on the advice of a recruiting officer. Officers high in the councils of the Working Class union, Holmes said, told members of the organization that through the I. W. W. and affiliated bodies, draft resisters would be plentifully supplied with arms and ammunition purchased with German money.

Recruiting activity of the Working Class union, he testified, dated from the passage of the selective draft act and leaders seemed well supplied with money and presented comprehensive plans for resisting the draft through appeals to the ignorant classes among which they worked.

"Rube" Munson, who is in federal jail at Muskogee, was the state organizer of the Working Class union, with headquarters at Sallisaw, Holmes testified. The arrest of Munson on May 31 severed the connection with Chicago headquarters, Holmes said, but recruiting of the organization was continued on the promise of new German connections.

The organization was said to have been effectually broken up in August with the arrest of approximately 500 alleged draft resisters in central Oklahoma, 300 of whom are still confined in jails and penitentiaries.

After the attempted suicide early today of J. C. Herrod, an elderly man, summoned as a government witness, some of the other witnesses seemed stricken with fear.

Repudiated His Testimony.

Scott Mitchell, called this afternoon by the prosecution, in evident fear of the oath of the organization, repudiated testimony he had given before a United States commissioner in Oklahoma City shortly after his arrest and professed to remember nothing. He was arrested on a bench warrant charging him with perjury. Under the oath of the organization, revelations of its operations are said to be punishable by death.

Herrod's attempt at suicide was said to have occurred soon after a brother of one of the defendants was seen to approach Herrod and engage him in brief conversation.

During the morning session witnesses testified regarding the formation of the Working Class union, the manner of recruiting its membership and plans of the organization.

Left Him Carfare And Tobacco Money, But Wife Got Rest

Husband's Story of "What Became of My Salary Check" Strikes Sympathetic Note and Brings Him Quick Divorce.

It's a hard life when you have to give wife all of your money except "enough for carfare and tobacco." So thought the jurymen in Judge Pendleton's court when they awarded a first verdict in favor of E. W. Bender in the the divorce suit of his wife, Mrs. Annie Bender.

Mrs. Bender, in suing her husband for divorce, charged him with cruel treatment, attended with "nagging," which she alleged resulted in a nervous breakdown on her part. She asked for $3,000 alimony.

Bender came back at his wife with an answer in which he charged that Mrs. Bender took all of his earnings, only allowing him to retain enough for carfare and tobacco. In addition to this form of cruelty, according to his testimony, she also went for weeks without speaking to him, and on one occasion slapped him because he remonstrated with her for her alleged "attentions" to R. R. Mitchell.

After deliberation lasting four hours the jury returned a verdict in favor of the defendant, and Mrs. Bender didn't get her $3,000 alimony.

Mrs. Jessie Herrington received a total divorce from Len Herrington, who she charged with forcing her to become a servant in the house of his parents. She testified that Herrington and his family "begrudged" what she ate.

Mrs. Grace Robertson was totally divorced from Aquilla Robertson, who, according to the testimony, is now serving a sentence imposed upon him for wife-beating.

The court also ordered annulled the marriage of Miss Lena Willoughby to M. L. Watts, it being shown by the testomony that Watts already had a living wife when he married Miss Willoughby, and has served a sentence for bigamy.

A petition for divorce was filed Friday by Holland Curran, highballs and joy rides with other men being the charge he made against his wife, Mrs. Marie Curran.

BOMBS DISCOVERED IN SACKS OF NITRATE

A Pacific Port, September 21.—Explosion of a bomb in sacks of nitrate being loaded on the Japanese passenger and freight steamer Seiyo Maru, at Iquique, Chile, killed two persons and injured ten, it was reported on the arrival of the vessel today. After the blast four other bombs were found. Members of the crew said a German agent was suspected.

The Rev. John L. Reeder, of South Pasadena, Cal., and others told of the attempt to wreck the vessel. Mr. Reeder said a German painter working near the pier where the Seiyo Maru was docked had been arrested after the explosion, and that a box of dynamite and bombs had been found in his house. The steamer left while the Chilean authorities were investigating, he said.

Those killed included two soldiers who were loading the nitrate on a lighter which conveyed it to the vessel, passengers said.

An examination of the other sacks of nitrate revealed the remaining sulphuric acid bombs concealed in fruit cans, according to the reports.

BLISS IS NAMED CHIEF OF STAFF

To Succeed Gen. Hugh L. Scott, Who Has Reached Age of Retirement—Scott to Be Recalled to Active Service.

Washington, September 21.—Major General Tasker H. Bliss today was named chief of staff of the army to succeed Major General Hugh L. Scott, who retires from office tomorrow.

General Scott, who is 64 years old, has reached the age of retirement, but he immediately will be recalled to active service. Secretary Baker said that for the present the general would be assigned to duty in connection with the training of troops in the United States, but would not specify the command.

General Bliss has been acting chief of staff since General Scott left for Russia several months ago as a member of the American mission. He also will reach the age of retirement on December 21, next, but before his appointment today there were intimations that he would remain as chief of staff for at least these three months. When the American forces begin to reach France in large numbers, however, the strain on the chief of staff will become so great that a younger officer may be called upon to bear the burdens of the office.

When asked today concerning reports that Major General Kuhn, former head of the war college, and now commanding the national army cantonment at Annapolis Junction, Maryland, would succeed General Bliss, Secretary Baker said that the question was not under consideration.

General Scott's assignment to duty in connection with the training of troops, it is believed, will be followed later by his appointment to a field command, possibly a division at the front. He has eagerly sought such command. Possibly his services may be found valuable as a connecting link between the training camps in France and in the United States, there having been some discussion at the war department of the advisability of providing for closer co-ordination of the training courses so that no courses will be repeated unnecessarily after the troops reach France.

COLUMBUS SUICIDE FOUND ON RIVER BANK

Columbus, Ga., September 21.—(Special.)—Samuel Richardson, aged 28, was found on the bank of the Chattahoochee river here this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock with a pistol wound in his breast, self-inflicted. The body was found by his brother, William Richardson, who had gone out to search for the deceased after he had failed to show up at home since he left for work yesterday morning. The body was found lying on the bank not more than two feet from the water, and it is thought that it had remained there since Thursday morning. The deceased had had family troubles, and had once before attempted suicide by taking carbolic acid. He had also threatened to jump into the river and drown.

Who Has a Bicycle He Will Give to Aid Boy Earn a Living?

Lack of a Wheel Prevents "Little Rufus" From Helping His Widowed Mother Make Both Ends Meet.

"Wanted—Boy with a wheel."

Little Rufus stood in front of the plate-glass window and looked wistfully at the sign. Tears came into his eyes, but he brushed them away manfully as he squared his little shoulders and walked into the store.

"Nothin' doin'," snapped the man to whom Rufus replied. "You can't hold down this job without a wheel," and he went on about his business.

"But—I can walk ever so fast," pleaded Rufus, the unruly tears coming back into his eyes for all his manliness.

The man paid no attention whatever. He didn't even look around, and Rufus went slowly out, heaving a mighty sigh as he glanced again at the sign pasted on the window, "Wanted—Boy with a wheel."

Rufus is a willing little worker and he does not complain a bit that he has to care for his widowed mother and his little brothers and sisters. But the high cost of living has reached Rufus just the same as it has everybody else, and he finds that his meager earnings must be supplemented in some way, or his little family will go hungry.

Rufus is a good worker, but virtually every job which offers a good salary to a boy of fifteen demands that he come accompanied by a "wheel"—and it would take Rufus years and years to save up enough from his little stipend to get a wheel—so long that he would no longer be qualified to answer a "boy wanted" ad.

There are many good jobs waiting for Rufus, if he only had a wheel, and finding that he could not increase his earning capacity minus the necessary "bike," the little fellow appealed to the Georgia Children's Home society in the Hurt building.

The society is passing the word around, hoping that some one will answer the call.

Surely, somewhere in Atlanta, there is a bicycle which has been discarded and forgotten, up there in the attic. Perhaps some young fellow has outgrown bicycles and answered the call of his country. Perhaps there is in Atlanta some whole-hearted boy who would be willing to give up his rides "for fun" in order that Rufus may ride "for bread."

DEATH OF MRS. BINGHAM WILL BE INVESTIGATED

Judge Bingham's Friends Indignant, and They Propose to Probe Various Rumors.

Louisville, Ky., September 21.—A personal investigation of various rumors in connection with the death of Mrs. Robert W. Bingham will be made by a representative of Judge Bingham, Louisville attorney, former judge of the circuit court and the second husband of the widow of Henry M. Flagler, Standard Oil and railroad magnate, who left her an estate valued at more than $70,000,000. A statement to that effect was made today by attorneys for Judge Bingham.

Advices from Wilmington, N. C., where Mrs. Bingham was buried, were that her grave is being guarded day and night and the probability existed that her body would be disinterred and an autopsy performed.

It is intended, the statement by Judge Bingham's attorneys recites, "to find out exactly what, if anything, has been done there in this matter; whether there has been any request for any such thing; by whom such request has been made, if any has been made; and for what purpose such proceeding is to be had and to see that in the event there is any such purpose (which Judge Bingham's representatives cannot believe to be true), Judge Bingham is given full notice so that he may have a representative present."

The statement also denies a report that Dr. R. M. Ravitch, the physician who attended Mrs. Bingham prior to her last illness, had been presented with a fee of $50,000 and an automobile. "Dr. Ravitch," the statement declares, "has at no time received for his services in treating Mrs. Bingham anything other than the ordinary fees charged by physicians."

It is also indicated that Dr. Ravitch's office had been rifled and some of his records removed.

Developments in the situation, which has stirred Louisville and moved the friends of Judge Bingham to a state of growing indignation slowly have been approaching a climax for weeks. Initial rumors were that a contest of the codicil to Mrs. Bingham's will bequeathing $5,000,000 to Judge Bingham would be contested. When the codicil was offered for probate a few weeks ago no formal opposition developed, although attorneys for the heirs named in Mrs. Bingham's will were present and questioned witnesses to it as to her physical and mental state. A leading question referred to the probability of Mrs. Bingham being under the influence of drugs at the time she signed the codicil. Answers were in the negative.

Rumors later reached Louisville that effort probably would be made at Wilmington to disinter Mrs. Bingham's body and have an autopsy performed. The real purpose apparently was not disclosed and in the absence of any decided move in that direction they were little heeded. Today, however, Judge Bingham's attorneys decided to take cognizance of the situation and issued a statement expressing surprise that disinterment was contemplated.

Judge Bingham, who had been out of the city, returned late today. He referred all inqirers to his counsel.

Mrs. Bingham, who died in this city July 27, had been unconscious twenty hours before her demise. Her death, according to the certificate of the attending physician, was due to myo-carditis. Prior to that time, it was stated today in a quarter close to the Bingham family, she frequently had felt ill without apparently having a special malady. Dr. R. M. Ravitch, a close personal friend of Mr. Bingham, frequently attended her. When she became acutely ill of heart trouble another Louisville physician, Dr. W. F. Boggess, was called into consultation and attended her constantly.

GERMAN AIRMEN BOMB AMERICAN ENGINEERS

No Hits Were Scored, But the Train Crew Took Refuge Under Engine.

American Training Camp in France, September 21.—(By the Associated Press.)—By day and by night the men of the American regiment of engineers which has taken over an important line of French strategic railways, are hauling tons upon tons of ammunition and other supplies to the French army units operating against the Germans. The American regiment has been turned over as a unit to the French and is getting all its supplies except clothing from the French government. The officers and men entered upon the work with the greatest enthusiasm and they already have been under German bombs and machine gunfire from airplanes.

Within the past few nights a heavy train of supplies hurrying toward the front was attacked by several enemy planes. None of the bombs came dangerously close, but every time the firebox of the engine was opened for stoking the planes swooped down upon the train and spattered it with steel-jacketed bullets. The fire got so hot that eventually the train was stopped, the crew taking refuge beneath the engine. Relating their experience afterward, these trainmen rather "swanked" it over their inexperienced brothers.

As many as 2,000 women a month, mostly from farms, are said to visit the rest room established by the city of Phoenix, Ariz.

GEORGIA ASSURED OF AVIATION CAMP

Practically Certain Thousands of Army Fliers Will Be Trained Near Grayson, Ga., if Citizens Meet Government Requirements.

It is practically assured that an aviation camp, which will cost the government in the neighborhood of $1,000,000, and will accommodate several thousand army fliers, will be built at Grayson, Ga., between Loganville and Lawrenceville, provided the citizens of Gwinnett county will obligate themselves to comply with certain necessary requirements.

At the training camp about 58 buildings, which will cost not less than $800,000 and probably a great deal more, will be erected and at least 2,000 student aviators will be trained there. In addition to the student body there will be several hundred more men, including a large number of instructors and mechanicians. Grayson is about 32 miles from Atlanta and about 15 miles from Camp Gordon.

The site was offered the government by J. R. Smith and Jonas H. Ewing, of the real estate firm of Smith, Ewing & Rankin, who are understood to have options on the property. According to Mr. Ewing, the plot of ground under consideration meets with every requirement of the government for a flying field with the exception of a few minor changes that can easily be made.

In order to secure favorable consideration for the site near Grayson, it will be necessary for the citizens of Gwinnett county and the county authorities to lay out the most level piece of ground one mile square, and bring this plot to a maximum grade of 2 per cent. It will also be necessary to have a topographical map made showing the contours every five feet, together with all obstructions and ravines.

It is believed that the public-spirited citizens of the county will be quick to appreciate the benefits to be derived from the location of such a training camp, and will secure the co-operation of the county commissioners, and immediately raise the money necessary for the topographical map and also give a guarantee that the convict forces at the disposal of the county will bring the necessary ground to the desired uniformity.

It is stated that the level tract of ground is absolutely necessary to the training camp in order for the aviators to rise and alight from their machines without encountering difficulties from rocks, bumps and gullies. Every county adjoining Fulton has been minutely searched for a level spot of land, and it has been determined that the ground near Grayson is the nearest approach to a natural aviation site anywhere near Camp Gordon, near which the government is especially desirous of building the aviation school.

Mr. Ewing, Mr. Smith, Mr. Stephens and Captain Richards, of the aviation school at Georgia Tech, motored to Grayson Thursday, at which time the government representatives inspected the site thoroughly and gained the necessary data.

Mr. Stephens will lay his report before the authorities at Washington in the near future and an early decision is expected. He left Atlanta Thursday night for Thomasville to inspect a site that has been offered the government there, and will later inspect sites at Jacksonville and Tampa.

In the meantime, numerous other requirements that are necessary to securing the aviation camp will be considered by Atlanta citizens who are interested.

Once She Was a Lazy Girl, Now She's a Whirlwind Rider

DAISY HODGINI, Sells-Floto, riding Madcap, and her horse "Dandy."

"You ride like a mule skinner after a night in the saddle," was the favorite remark of Daisy Hodgini's father in the training barn of the Sells-Floto winter quarters at Denver several years ago. "Get some life in your act, or I'll send you to live with your grandmother," was the good-natured threat the widowed parent used to spur to greater effort the girl on the patient, rosin-backed horse circling the tanbark ring.

For Daisy Hodgini was very slow to learn when she was in her early 'teens, and she admits that she was very, very lazy. While her grandmother was a perfectly dear old lady, Daisy loved her father, and she loved the circus. The thought of leaving it all to become part of the life of a small inland city would scare her into flashes of the expert and daring equestrianism which now wins her applause in the middle ring of the Sells-Floto circus.

But one day, while Daisy still thought more of her ease and her fudge gorges than she did of her career, a tiger found the door of a handling box ajar and roamed the animal barn unrestrained. Daisy's father passed through the structure and the beast leaped from behind. The old rider lived just long enough to beseech his "baby girl" to become a great ring star. That was the turning point for Daisy. She became cyclonic in her riding. She was forever adding equestrian acrobatics to her repertoire. Now she is billed as the greatest of all eccentric and somersaulting riders. When the Sells-Floto circus exhibits Monday and Tuesday at the Jackson street show grounds you'll see Daisy juggling a lighted lamp while she does stunts on the back of her galloping horse. She calls this "ragtime" riding. It is an apt term, you'll agree. But you'll never believe she was a lazy girl once upon a time.

ASSESSMENT RATE MAY BE INCREASED

Tax Committee of Council Favors Raise From 60 Per Cent of Full Valuation to 70 Per Cent.

The tax committee of council is in favor of increasing the city's revenue next year by passage of an ordinance raising the assessment rate.

It is proposed in lieu of assessing property at 60 per cent of its full value, as at present, that the city assess property at 70 per cent of its full value, and that the city tax, $1.25 of each $100 assessed valuation, be levied on the increased amount.

The city's tax rate cannot be increased except by charter amendment, and members of council who want the city's income increased agree that no charter amendment of this nature could be passed.

Council, on the other hand, has authority to increase the basis of assessing property.

At a tax committee meeting Friday afternoon the following sub-committee was named to wait on the county commissioners and attempt to get the county to lower its basis of assessments in order that the city's might be raised without working a hardship: Aldermen Ewing, Orme and Buchanan.

NEGRO NEAR DEATH SAVED BY MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR

Governor Dorsey yesterday saved the life of Eugene Armstrong, a negro, just sixteen minutes before he was scheduled to be hanged in the Early county jail, at Blakely, Ga.

The death watch had guarded the negro all Thursday night, and he had put on his "death suit" of black clothes. A negro minister was waiting to give Armstrong the last rites of his church, and everything was ready for the hanging.

The long-distance telephone rang in the jail office of Sheriff Howell, at Blakely, and over the wires came this message from the governor:

"Delay the execution of Armstrong until October 5."

The governor granted the respite on the pleas of attorneys for Armstrong and citizens of Early county, who asked time to prepare petitions urging life imprisonment for the negro instead of death. Armstrong was originally sentenced to be hanged on June 29. Later he was respited until September 21.

NO LABOR SHORTAGE ON PACIFIC COAST, MARQUARDT IS TOLD

Reports of labor shortage and high wages on the Pacific coast are unfounded, and the situation there is less alluring than in any other part of the country, according to a telegram received Friday by Louie P. Marquardt, president of the Georgia Federation of Labor, from the Central Labor council, of Portland, Ore., and vicinity.

The telegram requests Mr. Marquardt to advise all mechanics and laborers to stay away from Portland and that district, declaring that there is a big strike on in Portland at the present time, and that the wages now being paid there are lower than at any place on the coast.

LIFE SENTENCE REDUCED TO 9 YEARS BY APPEAL

It pays to appeal, believes Raymond Shannon, sentenced to nine years in the penitentiary Friday by Judge Ben H. Hill, for killing Percy Strickland, another negro.

The reason Raymond is so strong for appeals is that on a former trial of his case he was found guilty of murder and given a life sentence. He then appealed to the supreme court and was granted a new trial. The jury in Judge Hill's court on Thursday found him guilty of manslaughter and the nine-year sentence followed.

In figuring up how much he had saved, Raymond, who evidently expects to live a long time, said he had saved about ninety years.

Georgia Farmers Appealing Cases To the President

Valdosta Cotton Grower Asks for Exemption on Grounds He Is "Too Busy About His Crops to Worry About Soldier Stunts."

Like the guest invited to the supper who pleaded he could not come because he had to attend to his oxen, farmers throughout Georgia are pleading with President Wilson for relief from service in the new national army because they have crops to look after and live stock to feed.

Since the news came from Washington a few days ago that only appeals for military exemption on agricultural and industrial grounds will be heard by the president, there has been such a large number of exemption appeals that the district boards and the adjutant general's office are working day and night getting them into shape for presentation at Washington.

The president will hear only this class of appeals and then only after the evidence to back them up shall have been submitted first to the district board. A farmer or worker in an industrial establishment turned down by the board may take up his exemption directly with President Wilson, whose decision in the matter will be final.

A farmer in Quitman Friday appealed for exemption on the ground that he has twenty-seven cows to milk in the evening and that "the pesky things won't let anyone else handle them." He adds that he has a milk route he must serve every morning and that he's the only person familiar with "who's who" on the route.

A Valdosta cotton grower says he's "too busy about his crops to worry over soldier stunts" and that he "is more use to his government right on the farm than in the army."

From Macon came a request for exemption on the grounds that the appellant is watchman in a sheet-iron mill and is, therefore, a "necessary part of the nation's industrial machinery."

Where there is good reason for temporary exemption for draft men engaged in agriculture, the district board has granted an extension of their time for reporting to Camp Gordon until December 1. The idea is to give these men time to get their work in such shape that it may be turned over to others.

Appeals for exemption on agricultural or industrial grounds are turned over to the district board and thence forwarded to the adjutant general's office, which send them direct to Washington.

APPEALS TO GOVERNOR MUST BE IN WRITING

Since it was announced that exemption appeals on grounds of dependency and physical disability—claims which have been refused by the district board—might be reopened by Governor Dorsey, the governor's office has been so deluged with persons seeking a rehearing of their cases that it was necessary yesterday for the adjutant general's department to issue an order that no personal appeals to the governor will be considered.

The appeals must be in writing. They must state clearly the grounds on which the appellant seeks a reopening of his case and evidence of his contentions must be submitted with his application to the governor. There is no recognized form to be filled out—just a letter stating why the case should be reopened. The letters will be turned over to the adjutant general's office for consideration before the governor shall finally pass on them.

The adjutant general's office Friday wired Provost Marshal Crowder at Washington, asking what disposition is to be made of appeals for exemption from men who have actually been called into service.

The body of Mrs. Slaton was removed to the chapel of Awtry & Lowndes, and funeral arrangements will be announced later.

RECRUITING BRISK IN ATLANTA FRIDAY

W. J. HARRIS WILL MAKE RACE FOR U. S. SENATE

Tells Georgia Congressmen He Has Definitely Decided to Run.

Washington, September 21.—(Special.)—W. J. Harris, chairman of the federal trade commission, has told Georgia members of congress today that he has definitely decided to become a candidate for senator, but will not make his formal announcement for some time.

WILLIAM J. HARRIS.
Chairman of the federal trade commission, who has decided to run for the United States senate.

Mr. Harris says he was much gratified to have received several telegrams and letters urging him to become a candidate and that a large majority of the papers in Georgia have urged him to become a candidate.

He stated that the work of the federal trade commission in the investigation of coal, lumber, steel, oil and other materials used by the government was such that he could not give definite attention to anything else for some time.

COUNCIL MAY BAR PARKING VEHICLES ON WALTON STREET

An ordinance proposing to prohibit the parking of vehicles on Walton street between Forsyth and Broad streets received a "favorable report" at the hands of the ordinance committee of the city council Friday afternoon.

Council A. J. Orme, who is chairman of the ordinance committee, advocated the proposed ordinance, stating that Buckhead cars are often delayed in "getting through" Walton street due to the narrowness of the street, and to the large number of vehicles parked there.

Hearing on the proposed ordinance giving the superintendent of garage more power in control of city-owned automobiles and trucks was postponed. A special session of the committee, before which the heads of departments will be summoned, will be held to consider this matter.

Favorable consideration was also given to an ordinance proposing to force the Georgia Railroad and Banking company to keep a watchman at Mayson avenue crossing.

SIMON FRIEMAN SUCCEEDS HIRSCH; GAILEY RESIGNS

Announcement was made Friday that Simon Frieman, well-known insurance man, has been appointed clerk of local exemption board for division No. 2 (Second ward).

Mr. Frieman fills the vacancy created by the resignation of J. H. Hirsch.

J. Herbert Gailey, of the clerical force of local exemption board for division No. 4 (Fourth ward), has resigned in order to resume his duties at Tech High school. No successor has yet been appointed.

British Steamer Sunk.

New York, September 21.—The British steamship Vienna, 4,170 tons, chartered by the French line, has been sunk while on a voyage from Brest to New York, it was learned at the French line office today. No details were obtainable.

COTTON CROP ONLY HALF LAST YEAR'S IN S. W. GEORGIA

Albany, Ga., September 21.—(Special.) The cotton crop of practically every county in southwestern Georgia this year will be just about 50 per cent of the production of 1916. This verifies the prediction of boll weevil experts and agricultural agents who have been at work in the section for several years educating farmers in methods for succeeding in spite of the cotton pest.

In Dougherty county the receipts to date are almost exactly half what they were to the corresponding date of last year. In Baker county 840 bales have been received, as compared with 1,550 bales in 1916, and the total production in the county is expected to be about 3,000 bales, as against 6,400 last year.

The reduced yield of cotton is due less to what the boll weevil has done than to the cutting down of cotton acreage. There are hundreds of farmers in this section who planted no cotton at all this year, and others who put in not more than five acres to the plow. Not on farmer in a hundred planted as much cotton as he did last year.

But other crops have turned out well, and the farmer who is not in better shape this fall than he has been in years is the exception. As a class, farmers of southwestern Georgia owe less money than they ever owed. They have met their obligations promptly, have comfortable balances in bank, and much of the season's harvest is yet to be sold. Prices have been almost unprecedentedly high for cotton and cotton seed, and peanuts, hay, live stock and grain will all be sold for record prices.

As evidence of conditions in this section just now, it is not unusual to see from the published statement of a bank with a paid-up capital of $50,000 and surplus of a like amount that it has cash in vault or on deposit with correspondent banks more than three hundred thousand dollars, which latter amount exceeds the total loans and discounts. Money is so plentiful that it gets in the way in the banks.

FIFTY FROM CHATTOOGA ARE COMING SATURDAY

Lyerly, Ga., September 21.—(Special.)—Chattooga county will furnish Camp Gordon about 50 men next Saturday, this being the day chosen for the departure of the selectmen from this county. A recent order has been issued calling for all white men who have been certified back to the local boards by the district board, instead of the 40 per cent as was the first order. Chattooga's selectmen met the local board in Summerville this afternoon and will leave for Camp Gordon Saturday over the Central railway.

CANDIDATES MUST PAY ASSESSMENTS BY NOON

L. Press Huddleston and Harvey Hatcher Enter Race for Alderman in Second.

The time limit for candidates to pay their entrance fees for the right to participate in the primary of October 17 will close at noon today.

Assurance of a hot race for alderman of the second ward was given Friday when L. Press Huddleston and Harvey Hatcher, member of the board of education, paid their entrance fees to Chairman Charlie Allen, of the city executive committee, in charge of the city primary of October 17. Alderman Charles Kelley will not stand for re-election.

"Wool Cotton" Said to Be Immune From Weevils Is Shown in Waycross

Waycross, Ga., September 21.—(Special.)—The first "wool cotton" ever seen in Waycross was shown here today by Roan Meeks, of Nicholls. This cotton was grown by Dave Anderson, on his farm near Nicholls, and has attracted much attention. The seed were obtained by Mr. Anderson at the Macon fair last year and cost $1.25 per hundred seed.

This cotton grows in locks that measure about five or six inches in length, and expert cotton growers claim that one man can pick from 700 to 1,000 pounds per day.

The plant assembles the long staple and grows to be from five to six feet high. The fiber of the cotton, however, is short, and looks very much like wool, hence its name.

It is claimed for this variety that it is practically immune from boll weevil.

COTTON PICKING NEARLY DONE IN DECATUR CO.

Bainbridge, Ga., September 21.—(Special.)—The Decatur county cotton crop is almost gathered and ginned. While the boll weevil has seemingly done less damage this year than last, the acreage was so greatly reduced to accommodate food crops that a much smaller crop will be made. As soon as the cotton crop is marketed peanuts will be put on sale, and these will be followed by the corn and meat crops of the county, giving Decatur county almost a continuous market season from August to January.

40,000 ARMY MEN GATHER TO SING

ing, and to this end General Swift has ordered the complete co-operation of the officers of the camp.

Schedule of Conferences.

In order that plans may be intelligently worked out, Mr. Kimsey will hold weekly conferences with the officers of each organization, according to the following schedule:

General Erwin's officers, 157th brigade, block K, meets at Y unit, No. 154, block J, every Monday from 4 to 4:45 p. m.

General Burnham's officers, 164th brigade, block B, meets at Y unit, No. 151, block B, every Tuesday from 4 to 4:45 p. m.

General Cronin's officers, 163d brigade, block Y, meets at Y unit, No. 150, block Y, every Wednesday from 4 to 4:45 p. m.

Colonel Pearce's officers, 319th field artillery, block L, meets at Y unit, No. 155, block L, every Thursday from 4 to 4:45 p. m.

Colonel Brown's officers, 307th engineers, block I, meets at Y unit, No. 154, block J, every Friday from 4 to 4:45 p. m.

Will Have Big Platform.

The big platform, from which the gigantic singing classes will be taught, will be 50 feet square. It will be so located in the site selected that the men can gather on the hillsides around the stage and see and hear Mr. Kimsey and those who will assist him in leading the singers.

This open-air stage will be used not only for singing, but will be used for boxing matches and wrestling matches and all sorts of outdoor entertainments, including vaudeville, theatrical and amateur performances.

This promises to be one of the most popular features of the cantonment. Mr. Kimsey is already known to hundreds of the men at Camp Gordon, whom he has been leading in chorus singing for several nights in the various Y. M. C. A. buildings. Those who do not know him yet are rapidly getting acquainted with him, and they like him fine.

The officers on duty at the big receiving station in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium met him for the first time Friday afternoon.

Mr. Kimsey and Z. Nespor, representative of the war department commission on training camp activities, strolled by the receiving station and found a number of officers in a dull moment between draft trains. Mr. Kimsey, who was dressed in khaki, had a group around him in a very few minutes, and the grind of traffic stopped to hear a fine swinging rendition of "There's a Long, Long Trail" and "Tipperary."

Splendid Baritone Voice.

Mr. Kimsey has a splendid, clear baritone voice and a great faculty for inspiring men. When he gets up in front of a group of soldiers with a newspaper rolled up in one hand for a baton, it isn't long until some real harmony is produced. He likes songs that are full of red blood, too.

The construction of the big stage will begin very shortly and before long there will be some mighty choruses booming forth on the twilight at Camp Gordon. The stage will be properly lighted so that it can be used at night.

It was also announced on Friday that work on a government theater will be started at the cantonment in the near future.

There are now four men at Camp Gordon representing the war department commission on training camp activities, as follows:

Z. Nespor, representing the commission; Warren Kimsey, singing director; Lewis F. Kellar, sports director, and Captain B. A. Weathers, post exchange director.

Mr. Kellar is just now away from the camp, but will return within the next few days.

Approximately 1,000 more draftmen arrived at Camp Gordon on Friday. The daily schedule of arrivals, however, is running very considerably behind.

Schedule of Arrivals.

The receiving officers had anticipated the arrival of 5,500 men last Wednesday, the first day of the present 40-per-cent movement, but up until late Friday night that total had hardly been reached.

It was expected that the total of 15,000 men would have arrived at Camp Gordon by Saturday night, but it is admitted now that it will be at least Tuesday of next week before the total 40-per-cent movement is in.

Lieutenant Colonel Frederick S. L. Price, however, is not disturbed by the lateness of arrivals. He has been informed that many local boards are experiencing difficulty in ascertaining just who is exempt and who is not, and that a few of the boards were a little late in getting their notifications as to the number of men they were expected to send. He stated Friday that, while the men were a little late coming in, they would all be there within the next few days, and the program of drill would go ahead.

Most of the arrivals of Friday were from east Tennessee. Knoxville's quota was 40 men, but, instead of the 40, Dr. W. S. Nash, of the Knoxville exemption board, brought in 55 men. The additional 15 men were taken in, and Knoxville will be given credit upon a subsequent quota for the extra men sent this time.

Dr. Nash, by the way, is an old hand at handling recruits. He recruited several Tennessee regiments during the late unpleasantness with Spain.

Real Southern Harmony.

Some real southern harmony, with plenty of trombone effects and "blue" notes, may be expected when the negro contingent from Knoxville goes to camp, for, according to Dr. Nash, the negro contingent includes a "mighty fine brass band."

Included in the Knoxville quota was P. H. Nichols, a national guard bugler and veteran of a number of years in the navy. His dog, "Chunk," came along, and, after looking the receiving officers over, picked out Captain "Pie" Weaver as a pretty good sport and made friends with him.

General Swift took about 8,000 men on a long hike Friday morning, the column including a large percentage of the 40-per-cent arrivals of the last few days.

About 25 or 30 men fell by the wayside, and were sent to the cantonment hospital for examination and such rest or treatment as might be necessary.

GERMANY'S "INFLUENCE" FUND

Revelation by the state department of former German Ambassador Count von Bernstorff's request from his government of authority to "pay out up to $50,000 in order, as on former occasions, to influence congress," is fraught with a multitude of intensely interesting suggestions.

It may be the letting of a very mysterious cat out of the bag.

It may possibly lead to a clarification of the atmosphere in bringing into the light some of the reasons for the thinly-veiled and very persistent pro-German sentiment that has been manifested in the halls of congress and elsewhere since our relations with Germany first assumed an acute stage.

It is significant that the ambassador's request—clearly for bribe money—was dated January 22, 1917, just at a time when the United States was directly on the verge of breaking relations with Berlin; but which break did not occur until more than two months later.

Of special significance, too, is the ambassador's phrase, "as on former occasions," indicating that the use of German money with which to "influence" somebody was no new game with Bernstorff.

The action and the tactics of the "little group of wilful men" both in and out of congress, their obstructionary policies and their fiery anti-American, pro-German speeches, both in the halls of congress and outside, have been bewildering to the American people.

What has inspired and prompted their inexplicable conduct has been mystifying.

Perhaps this astounding cablegram from Bernstorff to the Berlin foreign office may explain many things!

At any rate, it is safe to presume that there are certain "influences," both in and out of congress, who would feel much more comfortable today had the text of the Bernstorff dispatch not leaked out.

NOISES AND THE EAR.

Officers at the head of marine corps recruiting in Washington, D. C., declare that the country youth is not able to hear so well as his city brother, according to a recent official report, and that "only about one in five of the former possess the auricular acuteness of the city-bred lad."

These deductions are based upon the proportionate number of country boys rejected by recruiting officers on account of defective hearing.

This suggests an interesting problem for the scientists to grapple with, and until it is solved and satisfactory explanation given, one man's opinion as to the cause of this inegmatic condition—providing, of course, that the official conclusions are correct—will be about as good as another's.

The marine corps records are all the more interesting to the layman because they tend to upset a well-founded conclusion, as old as auricular science: That constant intensified use of a sense tends to detract from its acuteness and render it incapable of recording the more delicate impressions. It has been generally believed, for example, that the continual jarring noises of the city have a tendency to dull the sensitiveness of the nerve centers, the principle being the same as that by which boiler-makers, workers in stamp-mills and among noisy machinery, are commonly rendered "hard of hearing" by the continual bombardment to which their ear-drums are subjected.

This reasoning, though, is not borne out by the figures of the marine corps experts, who believe that the quiet life of the country, comparatively free from noises, "has a tendency to weaken, through disuse, the responsive nerves of the ear." Science, too, points a multitude of parallels in nature where the sustained disuse of an organ gradually reduces its functionary power or eliminates it altogether. A notable example are the blind fishes in the dark pools of Mammoth Cave.

To checkmate that contention, however, we have the example of the wild beasts and birds of the remote mountain fastnesses—where sounds, save those produced by themselves, are exceedingly rare—whose sense of hearing is extremely acute, as are their senses of smell, sight and touch.

So just what causes one class of American youth to be less auricularly quick than another must rest for the present in a haze of mystery; but Uncle Sam need lose no sleep over it, so long—as has been the case thus far—as none of the boys, urban nor rural, have demonstrated any inability to hear the call of their country, nor inclination to disbelieve their ears when they heard it.

"GUNNING" FOR GEORGIA.

At no time in the history of the south has there been a more urgent need for organization of commercial interests than today; and with the coming of the post-bellum readjustments of business and trade in all lines, instead of diminishing, that need will become more and more intense.

Especially is this true of this particular section—the southeast—and of Georgia, which are undergoing a process of almost unparalleled rejuvenation and agricultural, industrial and commercial development. And following the war the old order of trade and commercial exchange will inevitably be subjected to radical revision. Old sources of commodity supplies will be no more, and new ones will have to be developed; old markets for exports will be no longer available, and new ones will have to be developed. There will be a vast amount of commercial pioneering to do.

To assist in this work that will have to be done, and to insure its being done in a way most advantageous to each city, town or community, no better medium has ever been found nor plan devised than the local board of trade or chamber of commerce. "Co-operation"—"each for all, all for each"—must be the principle according to which the business interests of the community must operate in order to attain the best results. Nothing else will succeed like it; and therefore it behooves every city and every commercial center in Georgia to begin at once, while the conditions are favorable, to inject renewed life in its commercial organization, if it has one, and if not, to create one without unnecessary delay.

The potential value of a commercial organization to a community is strikingly discussed by George Farley in the September issue of "The Nation's Business," published by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, in which he says:

"Today every town knows that its commercial organization can be made an institution of incalculable worth to the community, and to the nation. These associations supply the leadership necessary to the success of any civic movement. Their achievements, in fact, frequently measure the achievements of the community. . . . The ideal organization (and that means the organization with the ideal secretary) does not shoot at random. When a factory knocks at the door of a town the chamber of commerce will make an industrial survey to ascertain whether or not the town needs or can support such an industry, whether raw material is available, whether there is a market for the output, whether the town has unemployed persons who will find work in the proposed plant, etc.

On the other hand, the town may need new industries and none may offer. The chamber of commerce goes gunning, but it does so with discrimination. It establishes, through a careful survey, just what is wanted, and it shoots straight for the mark.

What would it mean to the country if such a policy were in general operation? It would mean that the industries of the nation would be located where they would be enabled to operate with the greatest efficiency and economy. It would mean that every advantage of natural resources, raw materials and fuel, had been seized upon; that markets had been studied, transportation considered, labor supply taken into account. Our industries would be, so far as location is concerned, in the best position possible to meet the needs of the people, in peace and in war.

The Georgia Chamber of Commerce is in the field, as the central state commercial organization, to be of whatever assistance any community may require in perfecting its local organization; and it is anxious to be of such state-wide and community help. Furthermore, it stands ready to perform the functions, so far as it may, of a local chamber for any community in which the organization of such a body of its own is for any reason not practicable.

It is, in other words, ready and anxious to "go gunning" to meet the commercial and business requirements of every town and community in Georgia. The success this organization has had recently in bringing the mineral resources of the state to public attention has encouraged it to reach out and enlarge its sphere of operations; and there is no reason why it should not bring results in other lines of industry commensurate with what it has done for bauxite, mica and other minerals.

The Georgia community which fails to take advantage of the opportunity that the state chamber extends, and which fails to co-operate and get into the "gunning" game, will be asleep upon its own best interests and the best interests of the state as a whole.

The Autumn-Dreamers.

I.

The North Wind sang a wintry song,
The roses were asleep,
But in their dreams of Summer-gleams
They felt the Shadows creep;
But the Shadows said: "We seek the light
Of firesides, in the wintry night,
Where little children keep.

II.

"The children of the Roses,
Who left their summer-play
To hear the fireside stories
That make the winter May;
For when the winds of winter roam,
The children are the flowers of Home,
And charm the dark away."

III.

And, dreaming of the children,
The Roses never knew
If wintry winds were singing
And gray skies blurred the blue,
And in his little, fireside place,
A child dreamed Roses kissed his face—
Love's kisses, sweet and true!

On the High Road.

"When you start in the climbing business," said the Town Oracle, "don't stop on the first hilltop, if there's a chance to get higher; and as you rise in the elements, dispute the way with Thunder, and ride the lightning 'round the sky, and may be the folks you left in the lowgrounds will shrug their shoulders and say: 'If he's able to keep it up, perhaps he'll get somewhere after awhile!'"

The Travelers.

Travelers on the road so rough,
Whistle off the worry!
Time is going fast enough—
What's the use to hurry?
Swift or slow, you'll make the race
Some day, to the Resting Place.

In the road you journey o'er,
Raise the dust that's blinding;
But the travelers gone before—
They are never minding!
If again they bore the load
Would they hurry on the road?

Count no tears, nor harbor fears,
This side Sleep, or Heaven;
Strength for all the heedless years
In the grace that's given.
Swift or slow, you'll make the race
Some day, to the Resting Place.

"Of course, the trained soldier doesn't put his hands in his pockets, but it is said to be hard to break the recruit from the habit," says The Tifton Gazette, and adds:

"Perhaps that is one of the reasons Uncle Sam doesn't pay off his newly enlisted men for a month or so—that they may have nothing to put their hands in their pockets for."

What's shiny-bright an' new?
But any kind o' money

If—

This is the way The Greensboro Herald-Journal looks at it:

"If you wish to swear, why swear by your country; if you wish to lie, let it be for a pretty woman; if you wish to steal, let it be from temptation, and if you wish to drink, why drink with us."

"The only trouble we are having with our swagger stick," says The Dalton Citizen, "is that when we have a cigar in one hand and the stick in the other we find ourself trying to smoke the stick quite as much as we do the cigar."

A Real Good Snake.

TIME CERTAINLY DOES MAR THIS H'RE TOWN, VOWS THE OLD KUNNEL

There wan't many sojers in town yesterday, so the Old Kunnel drifted into the fire station down by th' state capitol and talked with the "boys" a bit. He got on the question o' landmarks and he sho' was right t'hum, bein's he's been in Atlanta since th' days o' th' old torchlight political processions an' seein' as he's had speakin' acquaintance with most everybody who's been anybody.

"Makes my old heart kinda heavy," remarked the Kunnel, "when I drift 'round town expectin' t'look over th' old residences that used t' be, in th' days back yonder. This mornin', for instance, I walked me up Peachtree t' Baker, expectin' to drop in for a chat with old Dr. Scott. Y'know who I mean—Dr. Henry F. Scott, forty years ago one o' th' best eye, ear an' throat specialists in town.

"Well, sir, when I got me t' th' corner o' Baker street, I felt I was lost in a strange neighborhood. 'Course th' old Hopkins home was still there, but on th' opposite corner, where Dr. Scott had his fine old home, wha'd I see but a big iron shed where those pesky buzz-wagons stop every now an' then to be 'gassed.' No old home, no pretty garden any mo'. Jest gas an' air an' machines—an' negroes in near-khaki!

"I remember distinctly when all that ar' lot was a big cemetery; an' in it wuz buried some o' my oldest friends—Lord have mercy on 'em. Then someone built a fine old home on the place—don't jest remember off-hand who it was. Anyhow, Frank Rice, who's now livin' out in a big West Peachtree home, got hold o' th' old place and remodeled it into an attractive-lookin' mansion.

"Back in the late eighties Dr. Scott moved in with his fam'ly frum back in old Scott street, named after the doctor's father. Dr. Scott an' former Governor McDaniel, y'know, married sisters. McDaniel was in the govern'rs chair when th' state capitol wuz built an he's now, I think, head o' th' trustees o' Georgia university at Athens.

"Many's a time me an' Dr. Scott sat on that old porch an' talked politics an' war an' sech things. The doctor's retired now an' he's livin' out Buckhead way. He doesn't practice any mo'—jest farms a bit an' looks after his properties in town. I heard today that th' material frum th' old Scott home had been taken over t' th' east end an' made into apartments. That's conservat'n fer yu—th' kind that President Wilson has appealed 'bout.

"I sho' was glad t' see th' old James mansion still in its original shape. That's the home at Peachtree an' Harris streets, where Govern'r Dorsey now lives. Futher up th' street I looked in at th' old Bell Mansion, where the 'big' guns o' th' town used t' go fer their meals an' I find th' Red Cross society has taken it over fer a workroom. Well, that's a good stunt an' it's a mighty fit successor to th' old Bell household. Mayor Candler used t' own that old place an' I guess he still does.

"Used to be—"

But an alarm struck in the fire station an' the "boys" had t' get into their boots an' coats an' get out in a hurry.

"Good luck t' you, lads!" yelled the Kunnel.

An' he strolled over t' the' capitol t' look at th' museum.

Famous Watering Place Target for Hun Shells

Washington, September 21.—(Special.)—Scarborough, familiarly known as the "Queen of English Watering Places," has had more than its share of bombardments during this war. It was one of the first of the unfortified British towns to feel the indiscriminate hail of German shells, its civilians being subjected to a bombardment in December, 1914. A few days ago it was attacked by a German submarine, and several fatalities resulted.

The National Geographic society's war geography bulletin on the famous resort describes it as a town of less than 40,000 inhabitants, delightfully situated on a series of terraces resembling the tiers of an amphitheater. Its two beautiful bays are divided by a lofty promontory which is crowned by a castle that dates back to the first half of the twelfth century.

Scarborough lies forty-two miles by rail northeast of York, and an equal distance almost due north of Hull. London lies to the south of it a distance of 180 miles in an airline, and Ostend is more than 250 miles across the North sea to the southeast.

The old castle of Scarborough is associated with the final tragic episode in the life of Piers Gaveston, the English courtier who created so great a turmoil during the reign of Edward II. The prime favorite of that sovereign, he assumed so arrogant an attitude toward the other nobles of the realm that they insisted upon his banishment. He was restored to favor on numerous occasions, however, and his periods of banishment were always brief. Finally, the barons, thoroughly incensed at him, surrounded him in this Scarborough castle where he had taken refuge. When he surrendered they took him to Blacklow hill, near Warwick, and there beheaded him.

Scarborough was formerly famous for its jet manufacturers, and now enjoys a considerable coasting and fishing trade. It has beautiful promenades, marine drives and mineral springs which were once much patronized before the sea-bathing became popular.

Charles Francis Phillips, the Columbia university student who was deprived of his citizenship and sentenced to pay a fine of $500 and serve one day in jail because of his anti-conscription conspiracy is to be married in New York today to Eleanor Wilson Parker, a Barnard college student who was acquitted of the same charge.

"In the Day's News."

Abdul Hamid II., who reigned for more than thirty-two years as Sultan of Turkey, until deposed in 1909, today reaches his seventy-fifth birthday anniverasry, having been born on September 22, 1842. He was the thirty-fourth sovereign, in male descent, of the house of Othman, founder of the Ottoman empire, who began his rule in the year 1299. Abdul Hamid succeeded to the throne on the deposition of his elder brother, Sultan Murad V., in 1876. During his long reign his name became a synonym for cruelty and duplicity throughout the civilized world. In the early part of 1909 he lost his throne as a result of the successful revolution led by the Young Turks, and his brother, Mohammed V., was named as his successor. For the past eight years the deposed sultan has been kept a virtual prisoner.

HEALTH TALKS

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

BOYS SHOULD BOX.

Every boy at the age of twelve or thirteen should know how to swim, because some day it may save his life; and how to defend himself with his "dukes," because some day it may save his face.

The manly art threatens to be a lost art since the professional sport of pugilism is deservedly frowned down by the law. It is a very unfortunate thing for the race that the gentleman's game of boxing has been popularly confused with the professional sport of pugilism. Prize fights for cash prizes, with bets on the side, belong with full fights, and no real lover of clean sport can deplore the passing of the professional pugilist. The fine art of boxing, however, only adds to a boy's manliness and chivalry, gives him more confidence in himself and teaches him the practical importance of taking good care of his health and habits.

Boxing, like swimming, ought to be a compulsory course of public school training, for all physically sound boys.

Take a growing boy of twelve or thirteen who is threatening to develop all sorts of freak traits and get into no end of trouble thereby, and present him with a good punching bag, man sized, and a set of boxing gloves, and you have turned that boy's inclinations into the right channel. Let him practice on his father, or brother, or if worse comes to worst, his athletic sister might try to show him a few points of the game. Presently he will be inviting his chums in for a few rounds, instead of swapping cigarettes with them out behind the barn, or hanging around the corner making friends with the degenerate street loafer.

Here and there you will find what seems at first blush, but only at first blush, an anomaly in the shape of a fighting parson, a clergyman who is known to be real handy with his "fins." You can't help admiring the man all the more for his prowess in that direction, and his character invariably reflects his physical capacity.

Pending the rearrangement of our school schedules, supply the boy with the necessary apparatus and find someone who can impart to him the rudiments of self-defense. The trifling cost of the experiment may be entered as an investment in manhood.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Pyridine Cured His Asthma—But—

If you wish to confer a great favor upon asthma sufferers, recommend pyridine. Pour a little in a saucer and sit alongside and breathe the vapor. I had asthma for twenty years, and it never failed to bring great relief to that dreadful oppression. I changed climate in 1893 and have not had an attack since.

ANSWER—Pyridine has long been used for the relief of asthmatic attacks. It is produced by the dry distillation of old bones, also in some tobacco smoke. If the heart is weak great caution must be employed when using the remedy. It often proves disappointing.

Mole to Cancer.

Is there any danger of a mole, not quite as large as a dime, on one's skin turning to cancer? When I happen to strike it I find it becomes sensitive. (Miss P.)

ANSWER—Yes. Sometimes such trifling lesions ultimately become malignant. Why not have it removed by your doctor, now a trifling, painless operation, and stop worrying about it?

Dr. Brady will answer all signed letters pertaining to health. The names of writers are never printed. Only inquiries of general interest are answered in this column; but all inquiries will be answered by mail if a stamped self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Requests for diagnosis or treatment of individual cases cannot be considered. Address Dr. William Brady, care The Constitution.

JUDGE GOBER'S "FORM BOOK AND PROCEDURE" MAKES ITS APPEARANCE

The Harrison company, of Atlanta, has just issued the first edition of Gober's "Georgia Form Book and Procedure," which is a collection of legal forms, with annotations from the reports of the supreme court of appeals of Georgia, on questions relating to forms and procedure, prepared for the use of the judiciary, the bar, officers of court and business men.

Its distinguished author, Judge George F. Gober, of Atlanta, was, for many years, judge of the Blue Ridge circuit of this state, and has devoted great care and much time to the correct compiliation of the forms and treatises incorporated in his work.

Inaccurate and misleading forms which have been incorporated in other form books have been eliminated, and all forms have been revised to meet the requirements of the courts of last resort.

A valuable feature of Judge Gober's book is a compiliation of the law on disqualification of judges, qualification of jurors, continuances and evidence, prepared primarily for the benefit of justices of the peace but presented in a succinct form, which will be of great value to the bar and to officers of court, as well as to the judiciary.

The new publication is a valuable addition to Georgia's legal literature, and the reputation of its author will insure its sanction as legal authority.

EXTRA! U. S. ON THE TRAIL OF OLD ANKYLOSTOMIASIS

You can't be a good aviator and have ankylostomiasis! It's been proved many times. You jest can't have any dealin's at all with "anky" and expect your Uncle Samuel to let you represent him "up in the air."

Accordingly, the student-aviators over at Georgia Tech are being injected with a serum that's bound to knock old ankylostomiasis out of their system and fit them further for air service over in France. Some of them got their first "shot" of the serum yesterday. Others will get it today.

In plain, everyday language, ankylostomiasis is a disease due to the presence of the parasites Agchiyostoma duodonale, Uncinaria Americana or allied nematodes in the small intestine. When present in large numbers they produce a severe aenemia by sucking the blood from the intestinal walls.

In other words—hookworm!

Rotarians to Raise $3,000 To Provide Books for Soldiers

Will Start Campaign Monday to Secure Subscriptions of $1 Each. Movement Is Nation-Wide.

Bright and early Monday morning 250 members of the Atlanta Rotary club will start out on a campaign to raise $3,000 as Atlanta's share in the $1,000,000 fund being gathered throughout the country by the American Library association to provide good books for soldiers. Similarly, there will be started at the same time a state-wide campaign to collect $7,000 additional, the total representing Georgia's apportionment of $10,000 to the big fund.

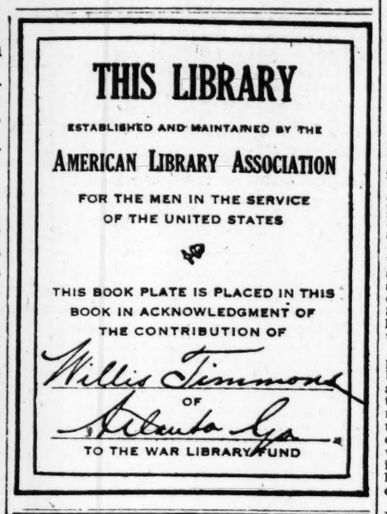

One dollar subscriptions will be asked by the Rotary club's campaigners, who have been divided into fifty committees of five members each, with a "live wire" organizer at their head. Each committeeman has pledged himself to bring at least $10 to the fund during campaign week, which will begin Monday and end Saturday.

The subscriber of one dollar to the fund will be given the privilege of having his or her name and address signed to a book plate that will be pasted in each of the books. These books will follow the "boys" through the training camps, on to the troop ships and into the trenches.

Imagine the pleasure of a letter from a soldier "somewhere in France" thanking you for the book, telling how he liked it and detailing some of his experiences in the great "war for democracy." And that is just what the "boys" who will get the books will be asked to do.

Library for Each Cantonment.

The idea of the campaign is to establish camp libraries at every cantonment throughout the country. One will be built at Camp Gordon at a cost of $10,000. Branch libraries will be scattered throughout the camps so that the books will always be within easy reach of the soldiers. And only the best books will be distributed at the camps. They will be selected by a committee of expert librarians. When the "boys" leave their training camps and go aboard transports, the books will go along with them, and they will find them, too, when they arrive on the "other side" and when they get into the firing line.

It will cost about $320,000 to build the camp libraries, but this sum will not come out of the $1,000,000 book fund. The campaign fund will be used exclusively for the purchase of books.

Rotarians Back Local Campaign.

Organizations of almost every description throughout the state are behind the campaign movement. Women's clubs, chambers of commerce, public libraries, Rotary clubs and private citizens will give virtually all of their time next week to the campaign. These campaigners have been thoroughly organized under the direction of Robert L. Foreman, state director of the campaign.

In Atlanta the Rotary club will manage the campaign. J. E. C. Pedder will be the general director here and he will be aided by the following committee chairmen:

George B. Allen, T. J. Anderson, B. Walter Ballard, Joseph L. Baldwin, Charles A. Beauchamp, Alvin Looney Belle Isle, Samuel Frank Boykin, G. W. Brine, Dowdell Brown, William M. Brownlee, Frank E. Coffee, Earl H. Cone, Rufus C. Darby, Albert Jay Deniston, Forrest B. Fisher, James B. Fitch, George M. Greene, Alvah E. Harless, W. Eugene Harrington, Harry P. Hermance, Chesley B. Howard, Eugene M. Hudson, Joel Hunter, Allen F. Johnson, Francis E. Kamper, Ferdinand M. Kauffman, Thomas C. Law, H. Armin Maier, Robert Hamilton Martin, Homer R. Park, William L. Percy, Roby Robinson, William C. Royer, Henry W. Salmon, Lester L. Shivers, Wilbur R. C. Smith, Thomas L. Stokes, Willis M. Timmons, Wylie West, W. Charles Wilson, Bill Kriegshaber, Vaughan Nixon, Russell Porter, Rockwell Johnson, W. N. Glenn, Lloyd Parks, Cobb Caldwell, George Fauss, M. W. Bell.

Rotary clubs will look after the campaign also in Macon, Albany, Rome and Columbus. Seymour Thompson, public librarian, will direct the work in Savannah and Thomas W. Loyless in Augusta.

ALL ATLANTA INCLUDED IN THE FIVE-MILE ZONE

As Result Federal Officers Announce Sweeping Campaign Against Vice in Hotels.

Following a decision that the five-mile zone around army reservations where soldiers of the United States are stationed extends over the entire city, United States District Attorney Hooper Alexander Friday announced a campaign against disorderly houses and liquor sellers that is calculated to sweep the city clean of vice.

But not only against the women is the "mailed fist" to be directed, but against the keepers of the places that are harboring them, and against the owners of houses offering them refuge. Special attention is to be given to hotels that are known to allow women to pursue the practice of prostitution.

As the first gun in the new campaign Mr. Alexander announced that before the week is out he will bring an indictment against one alleged notorious hotels and that other indictments will follow in rapid succession unless the practice is discontinued at once. Government investigators are at work and a large amount of evidence is being gained from the women who have been inmates of hotels and disorderly houses.

The five-mile zone that extends from Fort McPherson reaches to the neighborhood of Forrest avenue and the five-mile periphery which has for its center the Tech aviation school extends over practically the entire city. "We are determined to break up all houses where there is such disorder," Mr. Alexander said Friday, "and we are going after hotels in Atlanta and after the owners of these hotels."

"We will have an indictment against at least one hotel before the week is out and others will very likely follow. Under the federal regulations disorderly places are prohibited within a five-mile limit about Fort McPherson and the Tech aviation school and about Camp Gordon. This places under federal jurisdiction Atlanta and a good deal of the surrounding territory. The grip of the law is going to be felt and felt heavily by violators of the regulations as soon as we can put the machinery of the law in operation."

The district attorney is of the opinion that property owners who have leased their hotels or houses will take care to see that no violations of the character under the government ban will take place and that vice in the city will soon come to an end.

BACKYARD OF JAIL NOW LIKE GARAGE; FIVE CARS SEIZED

The backyards of the courthouse and the county jail are rapidly assuming the appearance of up-to-date garages.

Within the last few weeks five automobiles have been confiscated by the authorities because they contained booze. Formerly, confiscated cars could be retained by the owners upon giving bond, but an iron-clad policy has been adopted that a car once caught will be kept until sold.

The five cars will be sold by court order at an early date. The collection consists of one Locomobile, two Fords, one Chevrolet and a brand-new Dodge roadster.

TAXICAB OPERATOR WHO KILLED NEGRO FREED BY RECORDER

The case against J. D. McElroy, taxicab operator, of Peachtree street, who was charged with the murder of Reuben Mason, negro driver for the Tripod Paint company, Wednesday afternoon at the corner of Broad and Poplar streets, was yesterday dismissed by Acting Recorder Ed T. Mincey. A majority of witnesses in the case testified that the negro was advancing on the young white man with a monkey wrench. McElroy himself took the stand in his own defense and asserted that the shooting occurred only after the negro seized the wrench and came toward him in a threatening manner. The difficulty grew out of the fact that the negro moved McElroy's car from the place where he had left it to another stand. This occurred during the absence of the owner of the car.

STREET CAR PASSENGER BEATEN BY MOTORMAN

As the result of a fight with a street car motorman at the intersection of Broad and Alabama streets yesterday morning, J. W. Ford, 19 years old, of 307 Cooper street, is at Grady hospital with a badly battered head, a broken arm and several broken ribs. The motorman, E. G. Knight, 21 years old, of 35 Highland avenue, is under arrest, and a case has been made against Ford, who is an employee of the F. W. New Soda company, of 215 West Mitchell street.

Ford stated that he was coming to his work Friday morning and when the motorman failed to stop at the place at which he wished to get off, he remonstrated with him. As he stepped from the car the motorman struck him with the brass car controller, he says, and when he fell to the pavement, continued to beat him with this weapon.

The Georgia Railway and Power company gave out a statement to the effect that Ford was the aggressor. The company added that Ford wanted to get off the car in the middle of a block, and, upon being refused, jumped from the car and threw a bottle through the vestibule.

No Decision Yet Made In Ashford Park Case By Judge George Bell

Decision in the injunction suit brought by Atlanta merchants against the city water board seeking to restrain the board from extending water privileges to the Ashford Park corporation in connection with its proposed business community near Camp Gordon has not yet been reached by Judge George L. Bell, of superior court, who heard argument on the case Thursday.

Attorneys for the water board are preparing a brief in the case which will be submitted to Judge Bell, and the court will render a decision when all documentary evidence has been examined.

Kindness Supersedes Brutality in Management of Modern Circus

The safe and sane circus seems to have struck the keynote of the amusement seekers' wants. With horrors enough in the world just now, the elimination of the "death-defying" stunts from the Barnum & Bailey show is a welcome change. The box office has told the story in high-sounding figures and the filled seats at every performance testify to the "pulling power" of circus acts without death as an understudy waiting to play his part when miscalculation gives the cue.

There are thrills enough in the big show which will be seen here Thursday and Friday, plenty of them, but there is no longer an attempt to shoot a woman from a cannon's mouth or exhibit an Arabian knife thrower who can successfully outline the feminine form with sharp blades stuck into a stopboard.

It has been proved that the saner the circus the better it pays. Skill and beauty are appreciated more than daring nonsense, and, while the high trapeze performer continues a thrill, he has more than a life's training to make his position safe—there is a net under every part of the big show grounds to which he might swing.

This conditon is only a new expression of the sure evolution of the circus Kindness has superseded brutality; the appeal is for a smile rather than for the frown of fear. Nowhere is this shown better than in the big side tent which shelters the menagerie. With us as with the old Romans, until Barnum & Bailey instituted reforms, wild beasts did not live long in captivity. We "tamed" the lion with the red-hot iron. Gentleness and the cultivation of friendship were not part of the game.

All this now is changed. The great Barnum & Bailey circus masters put their "kindness-to-animals" campaign upon an economic basis. They told their employees that they could not swear at an animal without offending it; they could not strike one without hurting it, and their giraffes and camels, lions and leopards, hippos and rhinos, zebras and zumas were too valuable to be hurt.

This rule was made to apply not only to the horses with which they worked, but to the men with whom they worked, to the troupe, to the patrons, to all.

All of this means that, because of Barnum & Bailey, the circus has become a new thing. Its bareback riders, tight-wire walkers and aerialists are all students of the art of acrobatics and equilibrium. They are scientific athletes. The brutal elements have been eliminated in the rings and stages and in the menageries. "The Greatest Show on Earth" is a traveling congress of kindness and skill.

Beck, of Carroll, May Enter Congress Race As Draft Opponent

Bowdon, Ga., September 21.—(Special.)—Carroll county will contend for the continued honor of furnishing the Fourth Congressional district representative which it has held for twenty-two years, for Hon. I. H. P. Beck, of this place, today advises that he, in all probability, will throw his hat into the ring to succeed Judge W. C. Adamson. Mr. Beck is being strongly urged to make the race and is assured of the support of Carroll and Heard counties. For three consecutive terms Mr. Beck has represented Carroll county in the general assembly, being a member of such important committees as rules and ways and means. It is stated that should he make the race, anti-conscription will be one of his chief platform planks.

CAMP CAR SERVICE BEGINS TUESDAY

Single-Track Trolley Line Now Complete as Far as Nancy's Crossing, Half Mile From Cantonment.

Announcement was made yesterday by the Georgia Railway and Power company that its single-track line from the Brookhaven terminus to Camp Gordon will be put in operation next Tuesday as far as Nancy's crossing, about a half mile this side of the cantonment. The entire line will be finished October 15.

The rate of fare to be inaugurated by the trolley company will be 20 cents each way between Atlanta and Camp Gordon—40 cents the round trip. This will be divided as follows:

Atlanta to Fulton county line, 10 cents; county line to Oglethorpe university, 5 cents; Oglethorpe university to Camp Gordon, 5 cents. The same fares will apply on the return trip.

The state railroad commission has approved the rates, temporarily, with the understanding that the matter will come up for final ratification at the commission meeting on October 10.

Cars will be run on a 20-minute schedule, beginning Tuesday morning. They will be of the large type now used on the Stone Mountain and Marietta lines.

Following completion of the single-track line, work will be pushed on the double-track system, which is expected to be finished within sixty days after the initial line is completed.

Throw Away Your Sprays and Douches ---They Cannot Cure Your Catarrh

Science Shows the Way to the Proper Treatment.

Science shows conclusively that Catarrh cannot be permanently cured by depending alone on local treatment with sprays, douches, inhalers and ointments.

Catarrh is not a local disease. It is more than an inflammation of the membranes and air passages. When you are all choked up so that you can hardly breathe, your condition has been brought about by millions of tiny germs which have found lodgment in your blood.

It is only by cleansing your blood of these disease germs and driving them from your system that you can get rid of your Catarrh. S. S. S. drives the germs out of your blood and acts as a tonic to your general system at the same time. Rather throw away your sprays forever, if they are to interfere with the proper treatment of your Catarrh.

S. S. S. is the most satisfactory blood remedy known, and is purely vegetable, containing only the extracts and juices of roots and herbs. This great remedy has been in constant use for more than fifty years and has given splendid results in the treatment of Catarrh. All druggists sell it, but insist that they give you the genuine S. S. S. There is nothing "Just as Good."

You are invited to write to our medical director, who will gladly give you expert advice regarding the treatment of your own case, without charge. Address Swift Specific Co., 40-G, Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.—(adv.)

Giants 3, Pirates 1.

Pittsburg, September 12.—New York moved nearer the National league championship by defeating Pittsburg, 3 to 1, today. Should New York win both games of tomorrow's double-header, the championship will be secure, even though the Philadelphia club wins all its remaining games.

Benton held Pittsburg to three hits for eight innings today, but in the ninth two hits and a base on balls filled the bases. The next man was passed, forcing in a run. Anderson then relieved Benton, but Fischer, batting for Caton, stood still, while Anderson threw three strikes, retiring the side with the bases full.

Steele, who was knocked out of the box yesterday, again went in to pitch today, and was hit hard. The timely batting of Thorpe, Knauff, Fletcher, Smith and Holke scored three runs for New York. Manager Bezdek, of the home team, was sent to the club house in the second inning by Umpire Klem for disputing a decision on balls and strikes.

WHITE SOX CINCH AMERICAN PENNANT

Impossible for the Red Sox to Overtake Comiskey's Clan Now.

Boston, September 21.—Chicago made its capture of the 1917 American league pennant a certainty today by defeating Boston, its nearest rival, 2 to 1, in ten innings.

Should Boston win all its remaining twelve games and Chicago lose all the eight contests scheduled for it, the final standing of the teams would show Chicago leading by half a game, as follows:

| TEAMS. | Won. | Lost. |
|---|---|---|
| Chicago | 97 | 57 |
| Boston | 96 | 57 |

The hitting of Catcher Ray Schalk was the biggest single factor in Chicago's final clinching of the flag and in assuring the west its first world series since 1910. Urban Faber, of Chicago, pitched perfect ball for six innings, and in ten innings was hit but five times, having decidedly the better of Leonard, of Boston.

E. Collins singled in the fourth and was forced by Jackson, who went to third on Felsch's single. Barry took Gandill's bounder and retired Jackson at the plate. Weaver was hit and Schalk's single through Gardner scored Felsch.

Hooper's triple and Barry's single in the seventh, with none out, scored Boston's one run.

Schalk doubled to the left-field fence in the tenth, and, after Faber fanned, J. Collins' single to left drove home the winning run.

BIRMINGHAM COLLEGE ABANDONS FOOTBALL

Birmingham, Ala., September 21.—Football has been abandoned as a major sport at Birmingham college this fall and all games have been canceled, it was announced today. Loss of practically every veteran player, many of them through the selective draft, and the cancellation of all games except three with smaller institutions, were given as reasons for the decision. Difficulty would have been experienced, it was stated, in keeping the team in condition for only three games.

Atlanta Baseball Club Ready for Next Season

Charley Frank Re-elected President and Manager. Other Officers and Directors Chosen Again.

By Dick Jemison.

The stockholders of the Atlanta Baseball association held an enthusiastic meeting yesterday and received the report of their directing officers for the 1917 season.

That the reports were satisfactory was proven by the action the directors took in nominating and unanimously re-electing the old officers to serve again during the 1918 season.

Charley Frank was re-elected president and manager and given complete authority in handling the affairs of the club, with instructions to give Atlanta fandom a winner in 1918.

Frank H. Reynolds, who holds the combined office of vice president-secretary-treasurer, was unanimously re-elected to that position, which he so capably filled during the past season.

The following directors were re-elected: Charley Frank, Frank Reynolds, J. W. Goldsmith, Jr., Ed Inman, R. S. Abbott, C. V. Rainwater, C. C. Murphy and T. D. Meador, Jr.

The attendance and financial report of the season showed a splendid conduct of the association's affairs for the 1917 campaign.

BALTIMORE FEDS FILE A $900,000 BASEBALL SUIT

Washington, September 21.—Suit was filed by the Baltimore Federal League Baseball club in the District of Columbia supreme court today against officials of the American league, the National league and others for $900,000 damages under the Clayton act.

The Baltimore club claims it was put out of commission by alleged conspiracy and slanderous statements and invokes the Clayton act by which threefold damages may be claimed. In a printed declaration, covering nearly 100 pages, the court is advised of the history of baseball and of the inception, troubles and passing of the Federal league.

The Baltimore club says it expended $85,000 in equipping their ground and $30,000 in obtaining players. By the alleged unlawful conspiracy to crush them and to monopolize the baseball business, it is claimed, the club now finds itself with liabilities of more than $30,000 and with a leasehold that has depreciated to $25,000.

Will German Intrigue Unite North and South America in War For Democracy?

The proper way to murder, according to a German nobleman in the diplomatic service, is to do it "without leaving a trace." This noble character represented William II (more or less accurately) at the capital of Argentina, and his message to Berlin telling them how to do their own speciality, as some think it, was part of a dispatch coolly advising Germany to submarine steamers of the neutral nations that harbored him as a guest. "The present disclosure," remarks the Harrisburg Patriot, "ought to be the means of lining up the Argentine with the other South American Republics against the Germans as further evidence that the Western Hemisphere is united against the things for which Germany stands."

In THE LITERARY DIGEST for September 22d, there is a very illuminating article which covers from every angle the recent diplomatic clash involving Germany and Sweden against Argentina. There are a number of other striking articles covering the news of the world in this number of the "Digest." Some of these are:

Don't be satisfied with hearing only one side, and that in all probability garbled, of the news of the day. Hear all the evidence, exactly as presented by the different parties and schools of thought, without coloring or distortion, and then weigh the facts, as given, and make your decision. This is the only way in which you can arrive at a fair knowledge of what is going on in the world in all lines of endeavor. By reading THE LITERARY DIGEST each week, which you can do easily in a couple of hours, you can arrive at this result and will know all the facts before you form your conclusions. ## Cotton Bull Movement Assumes More Sensational Proportions

PROFESSIONAL VIEWS ON COTTON SITUATION

New York, September 21.—(Special.)—Today's market advanced approximately 130 points from the closing of yesterday, due to continued large covering of contracts and buying by both domestic and foreign interests. There was pressure on the market for a time, but after this was out of the way the market continued its upward trend. While, undoubtedly, deterioration has taken place during this month, the advices show only a normal September decovering occurred from time to time to-
J. W. JAY & CO.

New York, September 21.—(Special.)—Today's cotton market continued to advance on concentrated buying by brokers supposed to represent spot interests. Short covering occurred from time to time together with outside buying. No news could be obtained by us to account for the advance and we therefore cannot advise our friends to purchase cotton at this level. For the first time today oil seemed to meet pressure on advances and we think sales at times of strength should prove profitable.
JOHNSTON, STORM & CO.

New York, September 21.—(Special.)—The general opinion is that the advance again today being so rapid was caused by the covering of about the last of the large short interest, which had accumulated on the decline of the last two months. It was noticeable that the recent buyers were heavy sellers on the advance throughout the day though not in such large qualities as to check the upward movement. Reports of deterioration were current, shedding being reported. There has been some long buying on the top of this advance of 3 cents a pound. On the other hand telegrams from the south report more cotton moving to market. Liverpool has both bought and sold during the day.

January sold from 16.10 up to 16.49 and back to 16.10, closing at 16.15. Sales, 54,800 barrels.

January contracts, for instance, sold at 23.55 or 145 points above yesterday's closing price and 390 points—nearly four cents per pound above the low level of last week. That delivery closed at 23.28 with the general list closing irregular at a net gain of 128 to 142 points.

The market was excited from the start. Opening prices were 15 to 23 points higher on active general buying, which included a renewed demand from Liverpool and domestic trade sources. In both cases this buying was attributed to increased interest on the part of spinners and domestic manufacturers were reported to be buying contracts against sales of goods to the government.

Considerable realizing was attracted around the 22½-cent level, but it was readily absorbed on midday reactions of 25 to 35 points, and the market shot up more rapidly than at any previous time since the beginning of the movement during the later trading.

October contracts were relatively quiet, but sold up to 23.53 or 136 points above last night's close, while December sold at 23.45 and March at 23.55 or 140 to 145 points net higher. Last prices were a few points off from the best under realizing, but the buying movement was still in evidence at the close.

Reports that 136 neutral steamers now tied up in the United States ports might soon be brought into operation by voluntary agreements, no doubt increased optimism as to the export outlook, but the features discussed around the ring were generally those previously mentioned, such as the continued light receipts, the demand for September shipment, and the probability of indicated increased spot offerings, but there was not much southern selling here during the day.

Spot cotton steady; middling 24.70.

RISE OF $7.50 A BALE SCORED IN NEW ORLEANS.

New Orleans, September 21.—Cotton rose about $7.50 a bale here today, chiefly as the result of a covering movement among short sellers. This buying was stimulated by reports of a much improved demand for spot cotton at higher prices among southern spot markets and by continued complaints of crop deterioration and a tendency to reduce crop estimates to about the level of last year's yield. Much fresh buying for long account came in and outside interest taken in the staple was greater than on any previous session of the new season.

The opening was at the advance and the market rose with only moderate setbacks until late in the day the most active months were 145 to 151 points above the level of yesterday's last quotations. The close was at a net rise of 141 to 148 points.

Spot markets generally over the belt sent in much higher quotations and local spot prices were raised a cent a pound. Spot brokers said the demand was broadening and that the September spot interest was proving larger than anticipated. A feature in the spot department was the report that ocean freight room was being offered more freely.

The view held by many brokers was that the covering of short cotton was induced by fear of an unfavorable September condition report from the government.

GREATER ACTIVITY IN COTTON MARKET

Strength of Southern Spot Market Has Reacted in Sharp Advance in Contract Prices—Receipts Unusually Light.

New York, September 21.—The cotton market has shown increasing activity during the past week, and there has been a very rapid advance in prices. January contracts, for instance, sold at 23.35 during today's trading or $19.50 per bale above the low level of last week, closing tonight at 23.28, compared with 20.12 at the close of the previous Friday.

This upward movement of nearly 4 cents per pound has followed a decline of aproximately 7¾c from the high level of last summer. Selling on the declining market of late August and early September was attributed largely to expectations of weakness in southern spot markets as new crop supplies became available in larger volume.

Receipts, however, have been comparatively light, and while this has been explained on the ground of a late season or recent delays in picking through wet weather, the movement has evidently been a disappointment to recent sellers. According to local brokers the decline below 20 cents in contract prices here carried futures too far below a parity with the immediate spot markets, and covering has been extremely active on this week's advance.

There has been also heavy buying for Liverpool and domestic trade account. The demand from English sources has been accompanied by reports of more active buying by Manchester spinners, while there was persistent reports toward the end of the week that domestic spinners were buying against large sales of good for forward delivery.

The comparatively small receipts were taken to foreshadow correspondingly light ginning returns, and buyers have also been talking a smaller crop indication from the government in its last condition report of the season due on October 2. Reports that neutral steamers now tied up in American harbors may soon be brought into service by voluntary agreements have also created rather a more optimistic view of export possibilities, and the week's clearances have been heavier.

According to southwestern advances some grain room in southern ports has been released for September shipments of cotton, which may have been partly responsible for the export demand reported in that section of the belt. Buyers, however, have found little encouragement in the weather news and there was scattered selling on the advices in expectation of heavier receipts next month.

STOCKS GIVE BEST SHOW OF STRENGTH

Price Fixed for Copper Is Regarded as Satisfactory. Smelters and Kindred Industrials Take Sharp [illegible] end Upwards.

New York, September 21.—Following the lead of the copper shares, which were stimulated by the announcement that a price of 23½ cents for the metal had been agreed upon, the stock market at the opening today gave the best exhibition of strength of any time since the turn of market came on Wednesday.

Quotations were carried up rapidly, with gains of 1 to 2 points for many shares in the first few minutes of trading. A reaction came quickly, however, and the market was depressed below yesterday's last figures. During the greater part of the session movements were narrow and irregular, but toward the close renewed strength appeared and the advance was resumed energetically.

The price fixed for copper was regarded as satisfactory, not only because it put an end to fears of a severe scaling down in the quotation, but because of the favorable inference which might be drawn in regard to the settlement of similar pending questions. That the market did not show better sustained strength under the influence of the announcement probably was due to the fact that its effort was largely discounted by the recent rise. The continued absence of outside interests which even the market changed for the better in the last few days has failed to stimulate to any appreciable extent, limited the buying power of the market and made it sensitive to profit-taking sales.

The coppers developed pronounced strength on the late upturn, with a gain of 3⅝ for smelting. Steel shares was somewhat active and strong. There were a few weak spots among the industrials, including Motor and Zinc shares. Railroads as heretofore were neglected. Canadian Pacific was heavy.

There was an unusually active demand for Liberty Bonds, which sold at a premium for the first time in months. The range was 99.98 to 100.02. The general bond market was heavy, with further weakness in investment issues. Total sales (par value) $5,500,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

LOWER PRICE RANGE HEALTHY BUSINESS SIGN

New York, September 21.—Dun's Review tomorrow will say:

The gain in business with the advancing season is not yet general or uniform, and rather less of it is seen in the east than at other points. Where none at all appears, or where there is some actual recession, it is plainly due more to uncertainty than to lack of confidence in the future. At bottom, business in various branches has hesitated because the outlook has been and still is more or less clouded, and the tendency to act with caution in anticipating forward wants grows in many quarters.

But while the present policy of conservative purchasing, and more largely for immediate and certain lines, contrasts sharply with last year's rush to contract far ahead at almost any figure, and is disappointing to some interests, it is one which clearly makes for more wholesome conditions and more stable progress. The inevitable reaction from the extreme prices reached during the time of unprecedented demands has already gone some distance in certain of the chief materials of industry and the readjustments have in some cases brought with them signs of reviving activity, though not a few buyers still hold off for further concessions by sellers.

Coffee.

New York, September 21.—Near month liquidation seemed to be mainly responsible for rather nervous and irregular fluctuations in the market for coffee futures today. There was some covering by September shorts at the opening, which was three points higher on that delivery, while other months were unchanged to three points lower. Scattered trade selling was pretty well absorbed by a modearte outside demand during the early trading with the buying encouraged by renewed talk of peace prospects. Later, however, brokers, with Wall street connections, were active sellers of near months, with October easing off from 7.40 to 7.29, and with the general list closing at a net loss of 5 to 13 points. Sales, 37,500. Closing bids: September and October, [illegible].26; December, 7.43; January, 7.51; March, 7.67; May, 7.80; July, 7.96.

Spot, irregular; Rio 7's, 9⅝; Santos 4's, 9⅞.

Comparatively few fresh offers were received from Brazil. Very highly described Santos 2's and 3's were said to be here at 9¾, London credits.

The official cables reported no change in milreis prices. It was a holiday at Rio. Santos reported clearings of 46,000 bags for New York. Brazil port receipts, 65,000; Jundiahy, 48,000.

BEARS GET CONTROL OF CORN MARKET

Threatened Damage by Frost Has Failed to Develop and Selling Pressure Forces Prices Down—Provisions Advance.

Chicago, September 21.—Bears took control of the corn market today, owing chiefly to the fact that threatened damage by frost had failed to develop. The market closed unsettled, ¾ to 1¼ net lower at $1.18⅛ to $1.18¼, December, and $1.14⅞ to $1.15, May. Oats finished ½ to ⅞c off and provisions up 5 to 50c.

Almost complete absence of the frosts which had been looked for resulted in a good deal of selling pressure as soon as the market opened. A forecast of generally fair and warmer weather added force to the sentiment against the bulls.

Reports were current, too, of freight congestion at Baltimore and that the government had taken over corn in neutral vessels lying at the seaboard. Assertions, however, that the Dutch government was making progress toward tonnage arrangements with the United States rallied the market a little as the day came to an end.

Oats descended with corn. Large primary receipts and talk of an embargo at Baltimore acted as a weight on the market.

Receipts of wheat to date are still heavily short of last year's figures, notwithstanding an increase of 75,000 bushels for the week at Minneapolis, as compared with a decrease there of 120,000 bushels a year ago. On the other hand full seeding is much further advanced than is usual at this time. The acreage is the largest ever known.

Higher quotations on hogs lifted provisions.

GEORGIA, FULTON COUNTY—After four weeks' advertisement and notice, given in accordance with the provisions of section 3065 of the Code of Georgia, a petition, of which the subjoined is a true and correct copy, will be presented to Hon. George L. Bell, one of the judges of the superior court of the Atlanta circuit, at the courthouse in said county, on the 24th day of October, 1917. WILLIAM M. BEARDEN, Guardian Property Mary E. Bearden.

STATE OF GEORGIA, Fulton County—

To the Judges of the Superior Court of Said County. The Petition of William M. Bearden shows as follows:

1. That he is guardian of the property of Mrs. Mary E. Bearden, having been duly appointed as such by the court of ordinary of said county of Fulton.

2. That he desires to sell for the purpose of reinvestment at private sale the property herein described, the same being part of the estate of his said ward, to-wit:

All that tract or parcel of land lying and being in the city of Atlanta, being part of land lot forty-eight (48) of the fourteenth district of originally Henry, now Fulton, county, Georgia, more particularly described as follows:

Beginning on the north side of Ponce de Leon avenue at a point two hundred and one (201) feet eastwardly from the northeast corner of Ponce de Leon avenue and Bedford place (formerly Fort street) and extending thence north parallel with Bedford place two hundred (200) feet; thence northwestwardly fifty (50) feet to Mrs. Carrie H. L'Engle's northeast corner; thence south along said L'Engle's line eighty-three (83) feet and seven (7) inches; thence in a southwesterly direction eight (8) feet and four (4) inches to a point which is one hundred and seventeen (117) feet and nine (9) inches from Ponce de Leon avenue; thence south one hundred and seventeen (117) feet and nine (9) inches to Ponce de Leon avenue; thence eastwardly along the north side of Ponce de Leon avenue fifty-five (55) feet, more or less, to point of beginning; subject to a space for an alley nine (9) feet and five (5) inches in width extending from Ponce de Leon avenue north one hundred and twenty-five (125) feet along the west side of said property for the use of the premises adjoining said property on the west side; together with easement in favor of said adjoining property to maintain connection with sewer upon above described property.

3. Said property is encumbered by a first lien for the sum of five thousand ($5,000.00) dollars, and the annual interest thereon is $350.00; there are also outstanding taxes against said property aggregating approximately $150.00, and the annual tax liens against said property for the city of Atlanta and the state and county approximates $100.00. The property has a frame dwelling on same and it is old and has to be insured at a very high rate of premium, and when repairs are taken into consideration, the income from the said property, which is the rent at the rate of $40.00 per month, is insufficient to pay the expenses and interest, to say nothing of the principal of said loan of $5,000. There is no likelihood of said property increasing in income without the expenditure of large sums of money in improvements, and neither your petitioner nor the estate of his said ward has any such sum or is able to procure any such sum.

4. Petitioner desires to pay off the liens against the said property, including the first lien, and then to reinvest the proceeds of said sale either in income-bearing certificates of deposit in some local bank or other financial institution to be approved of by the court, or in such government bonds as may be approved of by the court, so that a net income for the support of his ward can be realized from her property.

5. Petitioner shows that notice of his intention to make this application has been published once a week for four weeks in the newspaper in said county of Fulton in which the legal advertisements of said county are published.

Wherefore petitioner prays that the court will inquire into this matter and will pass an order authorizing him to sell at private sale for a sum which he will submit for the approval of the court, the property described herein.

DALEY & CHAMBERS, Attorneys for Petitioner.

GEORGIA, FULTON COUNTY—Before the undersigned attesting officer in person appeared William M. Bearden, who, after being duly sworn, deposes and says that he is the applicant described in the above and foregoing petition and that the facts set out herein are true.

WILLIAM M. BEARDEN.

Sworn to and subscribed before me this September 21, 1917.

Witness the Honorable J. T. Pendleton, Judge of said Court. This September 21, 1917. ARNOLD BROYLES, Clerk.

COTTON PICKER IS COMPLETE SUCCESS

Demonstration at Experiment Station, Witnessed by Large Number, Proves Stukenborg Invention Has Solved Problem.

Griffin, Ga., September 21.—(Special.) Griffin and Spalding county people in large numbers today witnessed a thrilling sight at the Georgia experiment station when they saw for the first time cotton picked by a machine destined to revolutionize the cotton industry, it is believed, and to be compared in importance with Whitney's cotton gin.

The demonstration was in charge of Cliff Clay and a party from Americus, and was witnessed by experiment station directors and many of the leading farmers and business men of Spalding county.

The mechanical cotton picker is so simple that it can be operated by a child, and it will do the work of several men, far more easily and thoroughly. After two weeks of demonstration under the most severe tests and with all kinds of cotton on the plantation of Mrs. Mary B. Clay, 24 miles from Americus, the cotton picker was Wednesday afternoon declared to be an unqualified success.

The inventor of the wonderful cotton-picking machine is Carroll Stukenborg, of Selma, Ala., who now lives in Chicago, a young man who has devoted fourteen years to the study of this appliance and who has finally perfected it, only after the most persistent labor and the greatest discouragements.

Associated with him is his brother, Fred Stukenborg, who has financed him the whole time, encouraged him and inspirited him with the confidence that finally wins.

The machine, under ordinary conditions, will pick forty pounds of cotton an hour, and the darkies seeing the wonderful feat performed by it looked on in wonder, thinking of the days when they will no longer receive 75 cents a hundred for picking cotton by hand.

It leaves the plant uninjured and at the same time removes every bit of cotton even more thoroughly than do hand pickers.

It delivers the cotton into a wire basket, absolutely free of dirt, each seed separated though with the lint still attached and much of the moisture absorbed.

Machine Pulled by Hand.

The machine has a width of twenty-nine inches, just getting in between cotton rows. It stands on two wheels and is pulled by hand. The picking device is operated by a one-horse power Mogul engine made by the International Harvester company. A half gallon of gasoline will operate the machine ten hours.

A hose six feet long extends from the fan. At the mouth of the hose is the picking device, which picks the cotton by friction of revolving brushes and convoys it to the fan and then into the basket by suction. Once the cotton enters the picker it never returns and there is no clogging. It goes straight through the hose to the fan and then is blown out of a periscope-looking arrangement into the basket. The pocket is square and made of wire netting and holds about eighty pounds. As the cotton is blown into this basket it strikes the farthest side and such dirt as may have been attached to it is blown on through the netting. The cotton, therefore, falls into the basket perfectly clean.

When the picker has been through a patch there is no cotton in sight, not even on the ground. Storm cotton that the hand pickers would leave is thrust into the machine and it emerges as free from dirt as that which comes direct from the boll.

The entire machine weighs about 250 pounds and is light enough for a boy to pull around.

For two weeks the Stukenborgs, Mr. Wigerly and N. A. Thiel, of Hammond, Ind., who will be general manager of the manufacturing plant, have been on the Clay plantation in Sumter county secretly testing out the picker. Cliff Clay, who will be one of the stockholders of the company, has been with them for several days.

Modest Invention.

Though thoroughly cognizant of the fact that he has perfected an invention which will revolutionize the cotton industry and protect the south against a future scarcity of labor, young Mr. Stukenborg is as modest as a girl.

Mr. Clay was in Chicago recently and by accident heard of the cotton picking machine. When it was shown to him he declared emphatically that it would be a great success. He invited the inventor to make the final test on his mother's farm place in Sumter county and the invitation was accepted. There has been no publicity whatever attached to the long dream the Stukenborgs have had. Not even their best friends knew on what device Carroll Stukenborg was working so industriously. They were afraid of another failure, but now that the cotton picker is considered an absolute success they want the world to know it.

The machine will be manufactured in the south, with Atlanta as headquarters. It will sell for $225. With two picking attachments to the machine, the price will be $250. There are no delicate parts to get out of order, and all can be readily replaced. It is estimated that depreciation from wear and tear will not be over three dollars a year. Every part of the machine has been patented and already the Stukenborgs have refused an offer of $100,000 for a half interest in the project.

They are going to finance their own company, the stockholders being limited in number.

AMUSEMENTS.

Werner-Amorous Trio.

(At B. F. Keith's Lyric Next Week.)

The Werner-Amorous Trio, in the celebrated European novelty that is famed as an act of amazing diversity, is headliner at B. F. Keith's Lyric the first half of next week. The show scheduled, details of which will be announced in the Sunday papers, looks like one of the biggest of the year. Making up the program for the three shows closing today are "The Girl From Amsterdam," breezy musical comedy of pretty girls and rare comedy by Roy Clair; the Klein Brothers, character comedians of splendid merit; Ted Boyle and Harry Brown, two comedians and a piano; the Van Dykes, with music and song, and the Duendin Duo, novelty wire artists.

Four Vaudeville Shows.

(At Loew's Grand.)

There will be four vaudeville performances at Loew's Grand theater today, instead of the usual three. The headline feature of the bill now running at the theater is the charming little comedy star, Helen Page, and her company, in an excruciatingly funny farce comedy, "The Understudy," a story of the stage. A big musical act, The Adanac Trio, three young men in ragtime saxophone numbers, lends a sparkling spot to the bill. Parvis and Harrison have a new line of comedy patter and a new song or so, while the Vanesses offer a startling and picturesque tight-wire walking act. Miss Maude Kramer, champion hard-shoe dancer, and her partner, Mr. Kennedy, give an unusual dancing feature. The photo-play is "Flirting With Death," starring Herbert Rawlinson.

John W. Bennett Rakes Hardwick in His Speech To Irwin Co. Draft Men

Ocilla, Ga., September 21.—(Special.) The barbecue tendered by the citizens of Ocilla to the Irwin county contingent of the draftmen who leave for Camp Gordon tomorrow, had in Ocilla today, was a complete success. John W. Bennett, of Waycross, the orator of the occasion, was introduced by Mayor G. S. Wilcox, and made an address which met with the complete approval of the large crowd in attendance. Mr. Bennett defended the president and his policies, and handled Tom Watson and Tom Hardwick without gloves; and it was apparent from the beginning that his audience was in complete accord with him. The soldier boys and the confederate veterans were the guests of the Ocilla chapter of the Red Cross during the day. All present thoroughly enjoyed the occasion.

Hugh Fullerton's First Story on World's Series In Sunday's Constitution

Hugh S. Fullerton, the famous baseball expert, who for several seasons past has been doping the world's series games for The Constitution and writing special articles of each game of the series, will be on hand again this year.

The first of this year's Fullerton articles will appear in Sunday's Constitution and continue every day until the series opens.

Mr. Fullerton's dope is the most interesting and at times the most uncanny of any of the articles in advance of the series.

His first article Sunday will be on "Lining Up the Dope," and in this article he gives the system by which he arrives at his conclusions and asks the fans to dope along with him and see whether or not they can best him in the doping.

Fullerton's System.

Fullerton assigns so many points offensively to each position on a ball club, so much defensively and then details it, his total of perfect percentage being rated at 1,000 offensively with about half that defensively.

He studies each player on attack, his hitting ability, his slugging, his base running, his run getting, his value to his team, his ability to drive in runs and his experience. Defensively, his experience, fielding ability, way in which he fits into the scheme of things of his team and his gameness are all considered.

Then each player is considered against this or that kind of pitching and how effectively he may be expected to perform against similar pitching in a world's series.

Monday he will discuss the first basemen, Tuesday the second basemen, Wednesday the shortstops, Thursday the third basemen and Friday a finale of the infields as a whole. Then he takes the outfields individually and collectively and the catchers and pitchers.

His Real "Dope."

But where Mr. Fullerton goes further than any other dopester is in the games themselves. Prior to the start of the series he dopes how the series will come out as his figures show.

He picks the pitchers that will work in each game of the series, and then he dopes each individual game out and if the pitchers that he picks work, then—

He picks the score for that game, going so far as to pick the hits and errors that each side will make in that particular game as well.

In this respect his dope has been uncanny as he has figured out the exact score and the hits and errors of the games of previous series more often than he has missed them, one particular play in some one game upsetting his well-calculated dope and that only.

It is interesting to string along with Fullerton and read what he has to say. Follow his stories daily in The Constitution starting tomorrow and continuing through the last game of the series.

Automobiles Needed to Give Convalescent Soldiers Rides

Mail cards to Commission on Training Camp Activities, Room 602, Chamber of Commerce building.

I offer my ..... pasenger automobile one hour a day one day a week for recreation of convalescent soldiers at Fort McPherson or Camp Gordon hospital.

Would prefer to have car used (day or week).....

Address.....

Telephone number.....

Officials of the Atlanta division on training camp activities are rapidly getting plans shaped up and are starting their campaign in behalf of the soldiers of the drafted army at Camp Gordon. In a general letter to the public, R. C. Darby, chairman of the automobile committee, invites automobile owners of Atlanta to co-operate with members of the committee in supplying cars for the use of sick and convalescent soldiers at the base hospital at Fort McPherson and at the Camp Gordon hospital.

Mr. Darby's letter follows:

At the camp hospital near Atlanta there will be between 1,500 and 2,000 sick soldiers. It is the desire of the automobile committee to secure automobiles to give each convalescent one hour's ride each week. At this time of the year we will want the machines to report at the hospitals at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. They can be back in the city at 5:15 or earlier. Machines can be sent out in charge of chauffeurs only.

If you have ever been sick away from home and friends, you can realize how much this hour's ride in the fresh air of the country will mean to these sick sons and brothers. It is a small thing the automobile committee is asking, but it means a great deal to these young men who are giving their services to their country.

SIX-YEAR-OLD GIRL CHOKES TO DEATH ON DRINK OF WATER

Columbus, Ga., September 21.—(Special.)—Margaret Lucile Fort, 6-year-old daughter of Solicitor T. Hicks Fort, of the city court of Columbus, met a sudden death this afternoon at 3 o'clock when she strangled to death after having taken a drink of water. The little girl had been suffering with tonsilitis for the past several days, and her throat was in such a condition that it closed when she took the water and refused to allow it to pass into the stomach, it therefore being forced into the lungs. The funeral services and interment will be held tomorrow.

Conscientious Objector Awaiting Court-Martial On Charge of Desertion

Otto K. Brennan, a farmer of Ashport, Tenn., first draft deserter from Camp Gordon, was placed in the guardhouse at the Georgia Cavalry camp at Camp Gordon Friday morning and now awaits court-martial. Brennan was captured at Tallapoosa, Ga. He stated at the guard-house that he is a conscientious objector to war, and asked for a Bible.

General Swift, on Friday, named the personnel of the court-martial tribunal for all offenses, as follows:

Colonel John C. McArthur, Three Hundred and Twenty-sixth infantry; Lieutenant Colonel Elijah D. Martindale, Three Hundred and Nineteenth field artillery; Lieutenant Colonel Henry S. Wagner, Three Hundred and Twenty-fifth infantry; Major Richard Wetherill, Three Hundred and Nineteenth field artillery; Major Frank F. Tillman, Three Hundred and Twenty-eighth infantry; Captain James Spencer, Three Hundred and Nineteenth field artillery; Captain Howard Tate, Three Hundred and Seventh infantry, judge advocate; First Lieutenant Lamar McLeod, Three Hundred and Twenty-fifth infantry, assistant judge advocate.

Brooks Co. Man Runs Last Two Miles of Long Walk To Join National Army

Quitman, Ga., September 21.—(Special.)—Frederick Amity walked from Berlin to Quitman, twenty-two miles, to join the Brooks county draft quota for Camp Gordon. When within two miles of Quitman he feared he might be late and ran the rest of the way.

He came in with his head up and in good shape. He said, of course, he ran; he could not afford to be late, could he? Somebody asked him if he was married. He said, yes, but he could support his wife as well while he was in the army as he did at home.

Somebody noticed that Amity's raiment was much the worse for wear walked twenty-two miles indicated walked twenty-two miles indicated that his cash was short. He was seized and escorted to a clothing store. When he came out he had on new clothes and some coins in his pockets.

CHATHAM DRAFT MAN ARRESTED AS DESERTER

Savannah, Ga., September 21.—The Chatham county military exemption board has asked the Savannah police to arrest Claud N. Mickler, of Isle of Hope, a resort near Savannah, as a deserter. He has been notified to appear to be sent to Camp Gordon as a conscripted soldier and has ignored two notices. This is the first case of this kind in this section of the state.

VELVET BEAN MILLERS FORM AN ASSOCIATION

Representatives From Georgia and Alabama Hold Meeting in Montgomery.

Montgomery, Ala., September 21.—(Special.)—Many business men, farmers, and millers representing more than thirty mills in Georgia and Alabama, met in Montgomery today and organized the Velvet Bean Millers, association, the purpose of the organization being to provide additional storage for the enormous crop of velvet beans, increase the milling facilities and extend the market for velvet bean meal and velvet bean chops to the north and the far west.

The formation of the association was encouraged through the recent action of the Southern railway in granting milling-in-transit rates on velvet bean products so that the merchant or farmer may ship the product to any mill and reship to any market at through rates of freight, which rates go into effect in Georgia, Tennessee and Alabama on October 15.

Officers were elected as follows: W. C. Coker, of Greenville, Ala., president; George H. Craig, of Selma, vice president; John W. Simpson, of Montgomery, secretary. The executive committee consists of the above named officers and of A. C. Darling, of Andalusia; D. S. Brandon, of Dublin, Ga.; W. N. Maddox, of Easonville, and S. J. Cassels, of Montgomery.

The association was addressed by Richard M. Hobbie, food commissioner for Herbert C. Hoover, who declared that the milling and marketing of the velvet bean in the great cattle-feeding sections would materially aid in the conservation of beef cattle and dairy cows throughout the nation. He said that the velvet bean gave farmers and millers a great opportunity not only to benefit the country, but to make money for themselves. The next meeting will be held here on October 9.

FAIR WEATHER TODAY, SAYS THE FORECASTER

While fair weather is expected to prevail in Atlanta and vicinity today, partial cloudiness is the forecast for Georgia, with probable showers in the interior, and also in the south portion of Alabama.

The weather over the most of the country is dominated by the extensive area of moderately high atmospheric pressure central over the region from Oklahoma north to Minnesota.

Only a few widely scattered stations reported light showers Friday. There are slight barometric depressions off the New England coast, on the north Pacific and in the east gulf, but no distinct storm.

HENKEL IS INDICTED FOR TWO VIOLATIONS OF PROHIBITION LAW

When Ernst Henkel, well known in New York, started for Atlanta about two months ago, his sojourn here was to have been enlivened with wine and laughter and, mayhap, a song or two.

He brought with him the following:

Three bottles of claret, two bottles of choice sauterne, six pints of champagne, one quart of rye whisky, two quarts of Scotch whisky and one bottle of cocktail. At least this was the amount on hand when detectives visited his apartment in a fashionable hotel here.

The federal grand jury added a somber chapter to the story, however, Friday in the shape of two indictments against Mr. Henkel—one on a charge of bringing liquor into Georgia without labeling the package, which in this case was in a trunk, as to the contents, and the other for bringing liquor into a "bone-dry" state. Mr. Henkel is "out" on $500 bond. His case will probably be called at the fall term of Judge Newman's court.

LYNCH CHARGED WITH VIOLATING PROHIBITION LAW

Jim Lynch, who is well known in Atlanta, was arrested last night about 10 o'clock by Detective Sergeant George B. Bullard and brought to police station charged with violating the city prohibition ordinance. His bond was fixed at $200.

At the same time that Lynch was arrested several negro bell boys in a downtown hotel were also taken in charge by the police. They will testify that they have been selling whisky for Lynch, it is claimed.

It is also reported that a federal charge will be made against Lynch, witnesses having been secured to testify that whisky has been sold to soldiers of the United States army.

JEROME JONES HEADS DIXIE LABOR CONGRESS

Resolution Adopted for Searching Probe Into Cotton Mill Conditions.

Charleston, S. C., September 21.—The Southern Labor congress today decided that the next meeting will be held in Louisville, September 3, 1918, and elected officers as follows:

President, Jerome Jones, of Atlanta; secretary and treasurer, W. C. Puckett, of Atlanta; first vice president, J. Chanson, Charleston; second vice president, F. G. Wolfe, Nashville; third, A. S. James, Paducah, Ky.; fourth, J. P. Wade, Wilmington, N. C.; fifth, Carl Karston, Atlanta; sixth, W. D. Jackson, Little Rock, Ark.; seventh, Y. S. Herrington, Tuscumbia, Ala.; eighth, U. A. Nerth, Chenlera, La.; ninth, E. C. Parish, Monroe, La.; tenth, L. N. Godbolt, Tallahassee, Fla., and sergeant at arms, Mrs. Mattie Wolfe, Nashville.

At today's session the congress denounced the system of discharging men from the United States navy yards here, declaring that it really constituted a blacklist for government service, and that it was "nefarious." The matter was handled in a resolution from the committee on resolutions, and an investigation was remommended. It also declared for a searching investigation into cotton mill labor conditions, charging that certain reforms are imperatively needed. It declared that railroad freight rates are too high, and that these have a bearing on the problem of the high cost of living, and demanded an investigation.

Uniforms

ARMY OFFICERS have made a rendezvous of this store. They have been quick to discern, and equally as keen to perceive, the superior facilities we have for outfitting those who are rendering a service to their country.

From a source of which there can be no doubt as to quality—superb tailoring—excellence of fabric, and perfect fitting garments, we have procured a line of uniforms which even exceed the requirements of the government.

We have reference, of course, to the
